Big U.S. Force Crosses Boundary on Wide Front

Meet Little Resistance From Massed Chinese

TOKYO, April 4 (Wednesday) (AP). — United States troops and tanks rammed north of the 38th Parallel Tuesday along a ten-mile sector in Western Korea, and met little resistance from vanguards of nearly 500,000 massing Communist soldiers.

The crossing—made in force—was the first time this year that U.S. troops had entered North Korea in more than patrol strength.

Today's Eighth Army communique pinpointed one force as "southeast of Yonchon." Yonchon is six miles inside North Korea and 35 miles north of Seoul on the Seoul-Uijongbu line.

But south of the parallel 25 miles northwest of Seoul, South Koreans crossed the Imjin River and ran into such fierce resistance from 1,000 Reds that they had to pull back.

SURPRISE INSPECTION

Across the mountainous peninsula where two Republic of Korea divisions already were north of 38 in force, Gen. MacArthur made a surprise inspection within 500 yards of the front. It was his 19th flying visit to the war zone.

There MacArthur gave what amounted to a reply to the Communist high command which had flatly rejected his March 23 offer to negotiate a truce.

"Our strategy remains unchanged in Korea," he told commanders who accompanied him. "It is based on manoeuvre and not positional warfare."

He made clear that the vastly-outnumbered United Nations army has no intention of yielding the initiative it maintains.

By nightfall, MacArthur was back at his Tokyo headquarters. His trip had taken him by jeep from Kangnung on the east coast to beyond Yangyang, seven road miles north of the 38th Parallel.

Earlier, MacArthur's headquarters had estimated the Chinese and North Korean Communist forces had a potential strength of 63 divisions on the battle front—the largest number yet committed.

Intelligence officers estimated at least 441,000 rested and battle-tried Chinese and North Korean troops were preparing a new offensive.

FOURTH OFFENSIVE

Perhaps double that number were believed in reserve and ready to support the fourth major Communist effort to drive U.N. forces out of Korea. Thus, the Red offensive could muster about 1,200,000 troops.

Seek Power Of Revocation

OTTAWA, April 3 (CP) — The Commons today approved the principle of a bill giving the Government wider powers to take citizenship rights away from Canadians who prove disloyal to this country.

The legislation received second reading after a two-hour debate indicating it had the general approval of all parties. Some speakers urged that the Government take power under the Criminal Code to deal with Communists and other subversive elements.

Some called also for a provision giving those being so deprived the right of appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Citizenship Minister W. E. Harris, introducing the legislation, said the Government feels it is essential to the "welfare and security" of Canada. Those affected will have the right to a hearing before a commission.

Justice Minister Stuart Garson said his department is working on a draft amendment to the Criminal Code to deal with Communist activities. However, that did not mean the draft would emerge as legislation. The policy would have to be decided by the Cabinet.

This will be the effect of the legislation:

1. Citizenship of naturalized citizens who return to their country of origin or former nationality without retaining a substantial connection with Canada could be revoked after two years.

2. Citizenship could be revoked for persons convicted under the Official Secrets Act. At present, this can be done only on conviction of treason or sedition.

3. Citizenship also could be revoked in the case of Canadian citizens who formally declare their allegiance to another state without technically acquiring the nationality or citizenship of that state.

Troubles Forecast For Home Building

OTTAWA, April 3 (CP)—The trade department said today that the prospective Canadian home-owner will have trouble building a new house in 1951.

Shortages are likely for such essential home-building items as copper tubing, steel pipe and fittings, hot-water storage tanks and wire nails and spikes.

The department outlined prospects for building materials in a white paper tabled today in the Commons by George McIlraith, parliamentary secretary to Trade Minister C. D. Howe.

TAKES LONGER

"Full realization of 1951 construction intentions is likely to be hampered by shortages of key building materials," said the report. "The average house will probably take longer to build and completion of other capital projects may be delayed."

The department predicted that steel, an essential building item, may be boosted in production to a record 3,450,000 tons in 1951, a jump from 3,317,000 last year.

But most of this may be required for the defence program, leaving only limited amounts for construction.

Cement brick and block manufacturers may not be able to obtain the necessary cement.

However, production of essential materials is increasing.

Pig iron, for example, is expected to total 2,400,000 tons, from 2,300,000 in 1950; lumber to 6,000,000,000 board feet from 5,800,000,000; cement to 16,900,000 barrels from 16,500,000; building brick to 400,000,000 from 392,000,000; mineral wool batts to 172,000,000 from 145,000,000 square feet; gypsum wallboard, to 243,000,000 square feet from 227,400,000.

Labor Council Joins Protest

VANCOUVER, April 3 (CP).—The Vancouver and District Trades and Labor Council (T.L.C.) tonight joined the alliance of labor groups protesting the boost in the cost of compulsory hospital insurance. The groups represent close to 200,000 workers.

Members lined up with the British Columbia Federation of Labor, Provincial arm of the Canadian Congress of Labor, and the Standard Railway Brotherhoods in demanding the Provincial Government rescind the increases "and take the issue to the people."

Parksville Man Killed by Tree

PARKSVILLE, April 3—A Parksville man was killed instantly Monday when he was struck by a falling tree.

He was Francis Edward McNulty, a retired stationary engineer.

His wife, who was watching McNulty falling a tree at their Martindale Road home, was unable to warn him in time.

McNulty was 68 years old. He was born in Peterborough, Ont., and came to Parksville from Seattle three years ago.

He is survived by his widow and one son, Herbert, of Parksville, and by a brother and sister in Manitoba.

Prosecutor Gets Report From Yard

LONDON, April 3 (AP)—All that Scotland Yard knows about the disappearance of the Coronation Stone—a report hundreds of pages long—was turned over tonight to the Director of Public Prosecutions, Sir Theobold Mathew.

It was predicted in some quarters that there will be major developments, possibly arrests, by the end of the week.

The stone, over which British kings sit to be crowned, was stolen from Westminster Abbey Christmas Day.

The presumption has been that it was taken by Scottish patriots, and much of the police inquiry has been centred in Glasgow.

Allied Leaders to Call For Showdown on Korea

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., April 3 (INS).—A Western drive for a showdown over Korea with Mao Tse-Tung shaped up today in the face of an expected all-out Red bid by Chinese Communist armies to throw U.N. forces into the sea.

U.N. leaders concur with the confidential advices of their representatives in Korea that the attack now brewing from 600,000 massed Chinese troops may be Mao's last blow and that he is likely to sue for peace if Gen. Douglas MacArthur hands him a bloody nose.

Western spokesmen staked their drive for a showdown with Mao in the diplomatic field on the conclusion—reached through high-level talks among the 14 governments with combat troops in Korea—that the "psychological moment" for ending the Korean war has come.

AIM FULFILLED

The Western group bases its conclusions on the fact that the 38th Parallel has been reached and the aggressor has been thrown out of South Korea in accordance with original resolutions last June of the Security Council.

From the viewpoint of the Western powers, a "moral victory" has been won and settlement of the war by negotiation can now proceed with the U.N.'s losing face or prestige.

The U.N. "good offices" committee headed by Assembly President Nasrollah Entezam has made no move to sound out the Peiping regime on peace. But top representatives of the 14 nations fighting in Korea have pressed Mao with public demands that he negotiate.

Warren Austin, chief U.S. delegate at the U.N., told newsmen that "now is the best psychological time to seek an end to the Korean conflict."

House Told Many in City Victimized by Swindlers

A number of elderly persons in the Victoria area have been swindled out of their life savings "by what some people call confidence men, but I call them swindlers and racketeers," Leo Nimsick (C.C.F., Cranbrook) declared yesterday in the Legislature.

He said the total amount swindled was in the neighborhood of $500,000.

Application had been made to the Attorney-General's Department by police for the holding of an inquiry.

The member said he had been informed police had sufficient evidence for prosecutions.

PUT THEM IN JAIL

Attorney-General Gordon Wismer declared that if there was evidence against offenders as suggested by the member he would do all he could to put them in jail. Mr. Wismer said he knew of no request that had come to his department from police regarding an inquiry.

The minister said police did not need approval of his department to carry out an investigation, and added that he would consult with his deputy on the matter.

Parks Car When Drowsy, Driver Has Case Dismissed

VANCOUVER, April 3 (CP).—R. J. Jeboult, 52-year-old salesman, had a charge of drunken driving dismissed today because "he did the sensible thing."

"I got tight and parked my car," he explained. He was found March 24 slumped over the wheel of the car, parked four feet from a downtown curb. The keys were in the ignition, but it was not turned on, and the handbrake was set.

"It was the only sensible thing he could have done," asid Magistrate MacKenzie Matheson. "It may not be good law, but I am going to dismiss the case."

Jeboult was aided by a newspaper tip column written by Police Chief Walter Mulligan, which advised:

"If a driver feels drowsy at the wheel, he should pull to side of the road, set the handbrake and catch 40 winks."

Cayuga to Be Scene Of Blessed Event

It might sound a bit unusual, but a blessed event is soon to take place aboard the Esquimalt-bound destroyer Cayuga.

Alice is the happy mother-to-be. It should be explained that Alice is the warship's frisky mascot.

She was a ball of fuzz four inches long when Leading Seaman George Johnson took her aboard the ship at Gaum in July when the Cayuga was on her way to the Korean zone.

Alice is a big girl now, and a full-fledged sea dog. Just when the junior-sized mascots are to arrive could not be learned.

Leading Seaman Johnson thought seriously of leaving Alice at Guam when the ship called there again on her homeward voyage, but the ship's company wouldn't hear of it. They realized she would have to be held in quarantine on arrival here, and voted to pay the expense out of the ship's fund.

Ice Dam Freed By Explosives

MEDICINE HAT, April 3 (CP).—Broken up by 4,500 pounds of explosives today, the 16-mile-long ice jam, blocking the South Saskatchewan River here, began moving downstream tonight.

Before sunset, the jam had moved ten miles downstream, and late tonight it was moving at the rate of one mile an hour.

Controls Put on News At City Hall

City Manager C. C. Wyatt in future will control a lot of the news emanating from the City Hall.

Some department heads apparently have been speaking out of turn—much to the annoyance of certain aldermen—and remedial action has been taken.

Mr. Wyatt has sent this notice to all department heads:

"The mayor has directed my attention to a principle which has been in effect over the years whereby statements given to the press affecting policy matters in the administrative affairs of each department must first be given his consent before released.

"This jurisdiction has now been passed on to me at the request of the mayor. It would be appreciated therefore that before any press release is made affecting the administrative affairs of your department that you first consult with me in relation thereto."

HITS NEWS GATHERING

The reminder is believed to have been precipitated by recent newspaper stories in which some department heads were quoted.

City Hall reporters dislike the ruling because it slows down the process of gathering news and has the effect of making department heads shy away when even the simplest questions are asked.

Some department heads said they simply haven't time to clear everything with the city manager so the reporters would have to "go without" their stories.

Lost Explorer's Bones Thought Found in Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, April 3 (AP).—Orlando Vilasboas, leader of a Government expedition, reported today he believes he has found the bones of the long-missing British explorer, Col. Percy Fawcett, in the Brazilian jungle.

Fawcett, famous for his Amazon explorations, dropped from sight in 1925. He had set out with his 20-year-old son, Jack, and friend Raleigh Rimmel, lured by hopes of finding gold and diamonds in a fabulous city of a lost civilization in the Mato Grosso jungle. He believed the Mato Grosso was the original Garden of Eden.

Vilasboas said the Kalapagos Indians killed the three explorers near the Rio Das Mortes (River of Death). They threw two of the bodies in a lagoon and buried the oldest, whom he believed to be Fawcett.

A score or more of expeditions have sought a trace of Fawcett since he dropped from sight after sending a last message to the British Geographic Society, May 11, 1925.

Missionaries, trappers and explorers reported various conclusions—that he had been killed by the Indians, that he had been spared because of his blue eyes, that he had found a paradise on earth in the wilderness and decided to stay among the Indians as a sort of white god.

First Cayuga Crewman Welcomed by Family

It was all eyes toward "Daddy" yesterday at home of C.P.O. Hugh Dunbar, 1320 Hillside Avenue. He returned to city yesterday morning from destroyer Cayuga. He was flown from Honolulu—leaving his ship last Sunday afternoon. Ship is due here Saturday, docking at Naden at 2 p.m. Daughter Jeanie wasted no time in getting into Japanese kimono her father brought home; while little Geoffrey was happy enough to wear his Dad's cap. Is there any need to mention Mrs. Dunbar's happiness at having her husband home again? (See story on Page 11).

ALL ABOARD

By G. E. Mortimore

POOLE, Dorset.—Driving on the wrong side of the road and changing gears with the left hand gives you an odd feeling. But you soon get used to it.

The most unnerving thing is going into a roundabout (there are many of them). Although the idea of hugging the left side of the road doesn't jar too much after the first few minutes, you still want to enter a roundabout the Canadian way—anti-clockwise. Here you must force yourself to go clockwise, or run into trouble.

One is also shocked by cars which cross the road to park. It's quite legal here.

Night driving in England can be an ordeal. Many cars drive on black country roads with parking lights only. Others use headlights, but dim them in a peculiar way. Instead of casting down the beams, the dimmer mechanism on many cars simply blinks one headlight out.

So a car in the distance sometimes looks like a motorcycle coming at you, and the single beam is dazzling.

Motorists seem in less of a hurry here. You don't see so many cars jockeying to pass one another.

Police supervision of traffic appears to be polite and casual—almost apologetic.

To obtain a British driver's licence you have merely to show a valid driver's licence from elsewhere and pay five shillings. There are no examinations. They ask if you have read the Highway Code (considerably different to ours). If you haven't, they give you a copy of the code and your licence at the same time.

After this simple process, my wife and I went down to get a U-Drive car (hired cars, they call them here). We set out to visit my cousin Betty on her farm near Barnstaple, North Devon.

* * *

The route took us to Dorchester and Bridport, and past Tolpuddle (famous for the small group of "Tolpuddle Martyrs" who were transported to Australia for daring to form a primitive labor union).

Not far from Tolpuddle we were held up for 15 minutes by a flock of sheep with young lambs, which bleated along the road.

Then to Axminster in Devon, famous for its carpets, and on to Exeter. The soil of South Devon is bright red, and sometimes you see a flock of pink dusty sheep on a hillside.

North to Barnstaple the soil turns brown again. It's a soft, lovely country, even in Winter.

My cousin's farm was at Muddiford, just a mile or two out of Barnstaple. We surprised Betty kalsomining her big house, preparatory to selling it and moving to another farm in Cornwall.

In three-quarters of an hour we were away again, because I had to be back in Poole to have my vaccination inspected. Vaccination is compulsory for all people landing in Canada or the United States.

We drove south at mad speed, through Somerset—Wiveliscombe, where Lord Beaverbrook has a house; Taunton, Crewkerne and back to Poole via Dorchester and Wareham.

* * *

We had the car for two days. On the other day we drove to Odiham, Hampshire, to see the R.C.A.F. Red Indian Squadron—first Canadian squadron to come back to England since the war. More of that another time.

* * *

I said recently that you can get a U-Drive car for $3 a day. I was a little off the beam. Some firms charge that rate, but it is only a basic rate. You have to pay for the gas, and there is usually an extra charge of about seven cents a mile for everything above a certain mileage.

In our case, the mileage allowed was 50 a day—a fact I didn't know when I took the car.

Our total mileage was something like 400. The attendant at the garage was shocked by that. Four hundred miles is a short jaunt for a Canadian, but an Englishman thinks it is a journey to Lyonesse.

My bill was nine pounds 15 shillings ($20.25). The garage man knocked off $2.25 as a concession to my ignorance.

Colonist Provides Help To Would-Be Victorians

Residents from widely-scattered parts of the world want to live in Victoria and have written to find out how they would fit in, George I. Warren, commissioner of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, said yesterday.

He said 27 inquiries from prospective Victoria residents had been received in March from such scattered places as London, England; Nairobi, Kenya; Denmark, the West Indies, Eastern Canada and many parts of the United States.

HOMES, JOBS, CLIMATE

Many of the letters want to know about housing conditions, chances of employment, hopes for establishing businesses, and the weather.

All of the inquiries are answered fully by personal letter, and several publicity bureau publications.

The Daily Colonist plays an important role in teaching prospective residents the facts of life about Victoria.

ASK FOR COPIES

Many of the letters ask for copies of the paper as a guide to everyday affairs in the city.

The Daily Colonist's large classified section often proves the best answer to inquiries about housing costs and availability, job opportunities and business trends.

Mr. Warren said that the 27 serious inquiries in March brought to 75 the total number of inquiries to the bureau from prospective Victoria residents this year.

Request Help With Boxcars

OTTAWA, April 3 (CP).—The Canadian Government should call on the United States for co-operation in easing this country's boxcar shortage, the Board of Transport Commissioners was told today by the Canadian Industrial Traffic League, in opposing a railway plan for tighter regulation of car loading and unloading.

The league, declaring the shortage is caused largely by car-hungry U.S. railways failing to ship Canadian rolling stock home, said Government intervention appears the only solution.

India Protests Union Refusal

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., April 3 (INS).—India protested to the United Nations today against South Africa's refusal to talk over the alleged mistreatment of Indians by the Union Government.

Sir Benegal Rau declared in a formal communication to the U.N. that the Union Government's stand left India "no option but to bring the matter to the notice of U.N. for such action as may be considered necessary."

The Union Government maintained the issue is a domestic matter and outside U.N. jurisdiction.

Skin Eruptions

Here is a clean, stainless, penetrating antiseptic oil that brings speedy relief from the itching and discomfort.

Not only does this healing antiseptic oil promote rapid and healthy healing in open sores and wounds but boils and simple ulcers are also relieved.

In skin affections the itching of Eczema is quickly stopped. Pimples—skin eruptions, dry up and scale off in a very few days. The same is true of Barber's Itch, Salt Rheum, Itching Toes and Feet and other inflammatory skin disorders.

You can obtain Moone's Emerald Oil in the original bottle at any modern drug store. Satisfaction or money back. (Adv.)

Debate On Draft Opened

WASHINGTON, April 3 (INS).—The House began debating the new draft bill today with a report that Russia, with 300 submarines and 400 big bombers, will soon have enough atomic bombs to smash key U.S. [illegible]

Armed Services committee chairman Carl Vinson laid the figures before the House with a plea for swift action on his bill to draft men at 18½, extend their service from 21 to 28 months and set up a universal military training program.

Vinson said his committee knows that "the atom bomb is in the hands of the Soviet Union and is being produced in daily increasing numbers."

"We know," he declared, "that in a short space of time Russia will have a sufficient stockpile of atomic bombs so as to be capable of initiating a terrible aerial attack on our cities and homes whenever she wishes to do so."

Wismer Hints B.C. Planning To Build Jail

Indication that the Provincial Government is considering construction of a new jail on Dewdney Trunk Road, about half way between Haney and Mission, was given in the Legislature yesterday by Attorney-General Gordon Wismer.

He said the Government hopes to implement most of the recommendations of a Government commission which inquired into Provincial jail conditions.

The new jail would provide accommodation for 400 prisoners. It would be designed to relieve congestion at Oakalla and contain facilities for a modern program of treatment for "young and more reformable offenders."

The Minister announced Provincial Probation Officer E. G. B. Stevens has been made Inspector of Jails and will be appointed Director of Corrections, a position recommended by the jail inquiry commission.

Military training in Russia begins with two hours a week in school for children 12 years of age.

Saanich Wage Raises To Equal One Mill

Wage increases for municipal employees will cost Saanich more than $14,000 for the coming year, or about one mill on the tax rate.

Municipal Clerk John Tribe said yesterday he thought the increases would amount to about $1,300 a month, including those for firemen.

Negotiations were completed last night at the regular Saanich council meeting.

Firemen and other employees will receive an increase of $1 a point per month, based on the rise in the cost-of-living index since the signing of the last contracts in 1950.

[illegible] changes in the basic wage scales as requested by the employees' association.

Workers Ask No Deductions For Insurance

VANCOUVER, April 3 (CP).—More than 100 workers in the Vancouver sawmill division of B.C. Forest Products Ltd. have asked their head office not to deduct the retroactive hospital insurance premiums from pay cheques.

The move followed that of 50 workers of Moore-Whittington Lumber Co. in Victoria last Saturday.

The Vancouver sawmill workers handed a protest petition to company officials Monday.

The retroactive premiums are for January, February and March.

The Victoria workers asked the withholding of payment of the increased hospital premiums, but insurance authorities in the capital said that any such action by the company would be illegal. Deductions under the Hospital Act are compulsory.

Court Goes to Bedside To Hear Will Testimony

VANCOUVER, April 3 (CP).—Supreme Court will adjourn to the bedside of a sick man tomorrow to hear evidence in the hearing of the disputed $900,000 will of hotel owner James Thomson.

The court will hear the evidence of Angus McLeod of Burnaby, a close friend of Mr. Thomson, regarding statements the wealthy bachelor made to him before his death.

Settlement of Thomson's estate rests on the validity of the lost-and-found will, discovered in a real estate office on November 16, 1949.

Counsel for the official administrator, John L. Farris, who is attempting to prove the will, has called four associates and friends of Thomson who say his signature on the will is genuine. In addition, two of Thomson's employees have testified that he promised to take care of them in his will.

Relatives and former employees of Thomson crowded Supreme Court today as the hearing went into its second day.

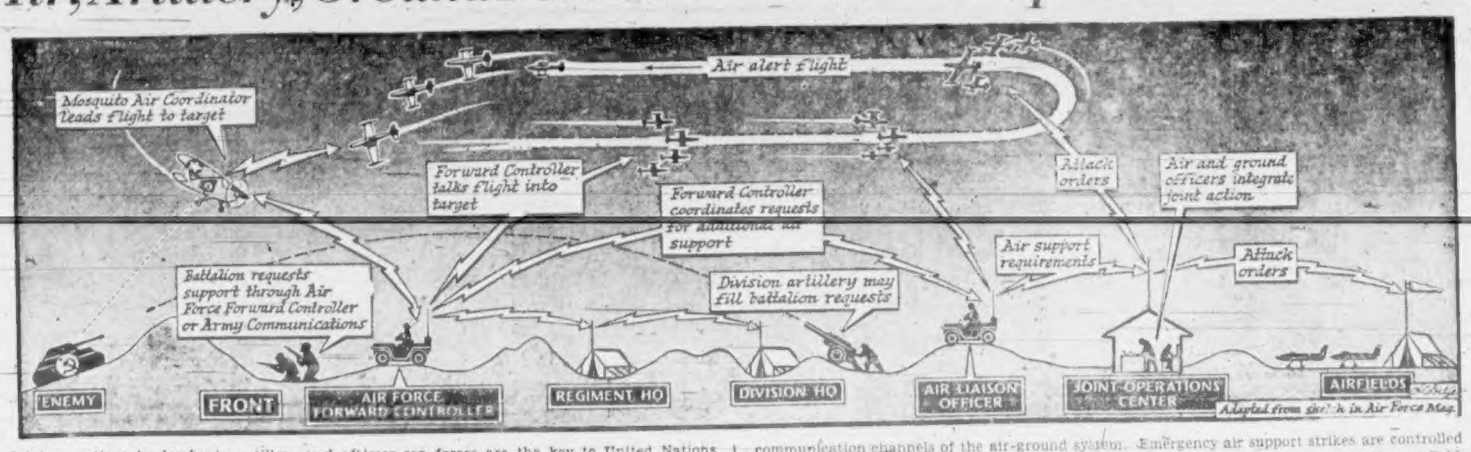
Air, Artillery, Ground Force Co-ordination Explains U.N. Success



Joint operations by land, air, artillery and oftimes sea forces are the key to United Nations successes on Korean front in the face of overwhelming numbers. This sketch shows how the air-ground operation works in Korea. Electronics, key to close support, links front-line infantrymen to air force plans through joint control network. Jagged lines in drawing represent major communication channels of the air-ground system. Emergency air support strikes are controlled at the front, the others at Joint Operations Centre, in the rear near the co-operating airfield. Operational partnership features air officers with ground units and ground officers with air units. Close contact is also maintained with artillery which may be called into action.

Smog Pays Off Commercially

LOS ANGELES, April 3 (INS)—A practical use for Los Angeles' infamous smog was disclosed today. It was reported that sulphur generated by the noxious fumes is being bought by chemical plants and used to produce $6,700 worth of sulphuric acid daily.

The recovered sulphur is in the form of hyrodgen sulphide which, until recovered under a recent smog abatement program, was lost into the atmosphere.

Too Many Peace Bids Might Invite Disaster

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
A.P. News Analyst

Herbert Morrison, Britain's Foreign Secretary, and Warren Austin, chief United States delegate to the United Nations, chose the same day to express the view that now is a good time to make another try for peace in Korea.

The mutual idea seems to be that the war in Korea has arrived at the point where it began, with the Communists out of South Korea. Neither side, Morrison and Austin seem to agree, has been able to accomplish its purposes.

In Australia, a Commonwealth Labor Party leader goes Austin and Morrison one better. Joseph B. Chifley told a political meeting that the sooner U.N. forces get out of Korea the better.

SOMETHING LACKING

Now, nobody can criticize people for seeking peace, at a "psychological time," as Morrison described it, or any other.

But something seems to be lacking in the reasoning which makes them think this is such an opportune time.

The Chinese Communists have just rejected a MacArthur offer to make a truce with a most scornful reply. A United Nations commission has been unable to make any progress on new contacts with Peiping.

The Chinese, on the other hand, have just announced a new "hate America" campaign as one of their principal propaganda activities for this year.

And a major factor at the moment is that Chinese troops are massing for a great new offensive. Americans, Frenchmen, Britons, Canadians, Turks and the men of a dozen other nations expect—perhaps in a matter of days — to be locked in a bitter fight.

If the Chinese show signs of failing it will involve the possibility of Russian intervention in some form or other.

Under such conditions, any Allied display of too much desire for peace might be taken by Russia as a sign of weakness and an encouragement to fatal adventure.

Labor Shortage Faces Industry In Province

VANCOUVER, April 3 (CP)—Labor shortages are developing in at least five major industries in British Columbia, a Government employment officer said today.

Milton A. Hambly, manager for the Unemployment Insurance Commission in New Westminster and the Lower Fraser Valley, predicted serious shortages of skilled workers for construction, logging, mining and millwork and said he looked for "scarcities of farm labor of all types."

He said: "A large number of construction, logging and mining projects have announced development for this Summer, giving definite indications of a shortage of skilled workmen and many more opportunities for the older aged, youths and the semi-handicaps to find work during the coming Summer."

Air Force Setting Up New Unit

OTTAWA, April 3 (CP).—The R.C.A.F. today took another step toward the creation of a 40-squadron air force in announcing formation of a new regular fighter squadron at St. Hubert, Que.

The number of squadrons now in existence is secret, but it is understood to be about a half-dozen regular and 11 auxiliary squadrons.

The build-up of a 40-squadron force, including both regular and auxiliary formations, is one of the targets under Canada's three-year, $5,000,000,000 defence program.

JET-EQUIPPED

The new squadron, to be known as No. 441, will be equipped for the present with British Vampire jet fighters. Later it will use Canadian-built jets.

No. 441, which perpetuates the traditions of the wartime Silver Fox Day Fighter Squadron, will be commanded by Sqdn. Ldr. A. R. MacKenzie, 31-year-old veteran fighter pilot from Montreal.

The new squadron comes under the control of the R.C.A.F.'s Air Defence Group, headed by Group Capt. W. R. MacBrien, with headquarters at St. Hubert.

Pinch of Austerity To Tighten on U.K.

LONDON, April 3 (AP)—The Labor Government laid before Britons today the prospect of doing without many things they need so the nation can build enough guns, tanks and planes to defend itself.

Blame for this was laid on Russia, whose armies were declared "a menace to us all."

The forecasts were made in a 25,000-word economic survey published by the treasury. It was the fifth such annual survey.

The nation will be walking an economic tightrope as long as the arms program continues, the survey said. The present program is for three years, but "we cannot foretell how long" the nation must keep on bearing the burden of guns, it said.

GAITSKELL HEARD

The picture of further austerity was drawn by Hon. Hugh Gaitskell, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who succeeded the ailing Sir Stafford Cripps as the nation's economic leader last October.

The survey pointed up these troubles:

Domestic prices will rise considerably because of rising world prices and shortages caused by use of materials for arms and exports.

Despite rising prices "there should be no unreasonable increases in wages, salaries or profits," which would just increase demands for scarce goods and make inflation worse.

The shortage of raw materials is "much the most serious of all the difficulties . . . to be faced in the immediate future."

Clothes will be scarce and expensive. And there'll be only 80,000 new motor cars for Britons this year—30,000 fewer than last year.

Defence demands for radio and radar equipment will mean fewer radio and television sets for the home. Supplies of refrigerators, stoves and vacuum cleaners will decline.

Food supplies are not expected to change, but prices of even rationed foods will go up.

This Is The First Thing You Need For A Cold —To Feel Better, Fast!
RIGHT TODAY, authorities the country over will tell you that of all cold treatments, the simplest and most effective is "Aspirin and as much rest as possible."
At the first sign of a cold—before you do anything else—you should take ASPIRIN, because ASPIRIN brings you quick relief from the headachy, feverish feeling—and the muscular aches and pains—that usually accompany a cold.
No matter how you try to stop or shorten a cold, authorities will tell you that this is sound advice.
FEEL BETTER FAST
And it's advice that produces fast results. For ASPIRIN actually goes to work in two seconds. That's one reason why, when you take it to relieve these distressing cold symptoms, you get the relief you want with astonishing speed.
By dropping an ASPIRIN tablet in a glass of water and watching how quickly it disintegrates, you can see this two-second speed with your own eyes.
WHAT TO DO FOR SORE THROAT
ASPIRIN is also an excellent medication to use for the relief of sore throats due to colds. You just dissolve three ASPIRIN tablets in one-third of a glass of water—and then gargle. This makes a highly potent medicinal gargle that almost instantly soothes tender throat membranes, relieves pain and irritation.
You'll find that ASPIRIN is not only highly effective, but wonderfully gentle, too. Its single active ingredient is so gentle to the system it is regularly prescribed even for small children.
Keep ASPIRIN handy. When you buy, get the 100-tablet bottle which gives you ASPIRIN for less than a penny a tablet.
Because no other pain reliever can match its record of use by millions of people, without ill effect, one thing you can take with complete confidence is

Violence Feared

Indians Irate at U.S. As Congress Stalls

NEW DELHI, April 3 (AP)—Anti-American feeling among Indians has been roused to the point that some authoritative quarters fear violence against American officers serving at the United Nations cease-fire headquarters in Kashmir.

The feeling against the United States developed because of its co-sponsorship of the United Nations Security Council's latest resolution on Kashmir and the hesitancy of Congress to vote an immediate food gift to India. It received fresh impetus Monday from Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru himself.

Nehru said the Security Council resolution, which included a provision for arbitration of the Kashmir dispute between India and Pakistan, was "extraordinarily objectionable."

Criticism of the United States over Kashmir has far outstripped criticism of Britain, which also sponsored the resolution.

Most Indians apparently place the Kashmir issue above the question of food in their criticism of the United States. President Truman proposed February 12 to ship up to 2,000,000 tons of grain to India. But the measure has bogged down in Congress where some representatives resented Nehru's criticism of American policy on Korea and Red China.

Communist China and Russia are attempting to make the most of the food situation.

K. R. Damle, a secretary in the food ministry, is leaving for Peiping in mid-April to explore China's offer to supply India 1,000,000 tons of rice and other grains.

Russia has jumped on the bandwagon by offering to barter 500,000 tons of wheat for Indian rubber, jute and tea, Food Minister K. M. Munshi disclosed.

There is a shortage, however, of the things that Russia wants. Indian officials said they doubted that they could accept the proposed barter.

French Deputy Says Soviets Want Agenda Cards Reshuffled

PARIS, April 3 (AP)—Andrei Gromyko insisted today that any agenda for a Big Four foreign ministers' meeting should include the questions of the North Atlantic Pact, the United States' foreign military bases and Trieste.

The Soviet deputy foreign minister cold-shouldered a Western redraft, offered Monday, which touched on none of the three topics he had advanced recently.

A theory is growing that the deputies soon may agree to a foreign ministers' meeting without an agenda. The facts are these:

1. Both sides admit that when the foreign ministers meet they can and probably will, talk about anything they want to.

2. Both sides admit that the order of subjects they are going to talk about is not at all important.

Gromyko did not reject Monday's redraft, but his critical remarks drew a lecture from French Deputy Alexandre Parodi.

"After four weeks, I thought we had finally put all our cards on the table," Parodi said. "Now the Soviets want to reshuffle them all again."

Oddities

TORONTO, April 3 (CP).—Shed a tear for the lowly onion. There are 5,000,000 of them here. They're due to be evicted soon and nobody wants them.

"It's enough to make you cry," said Albert Sabo today, in telling of the onions' plight. "We can't sell them, we don't want to dump them—and it's just as hard to give them away."

Sabo is chairman of the Bradford and Holland Marsh Association, a growers' organization. Their onions, packed in 10,000 bags, were stored in the Canadian National Exhibition grandstand last November when no market could be found for them. Now they're due to be evicted, April 20.

ROCHESTER, England, April 3 (Reuters).—Once a week Rear-Admiral H. J. B. Moore, Royal Navy engineering officer, doffs his uniform, slips into civvies and heads for the local art school.

There he sits among students young enough to be his grandchildren and sketches nude models.

The 53-year-old admiral, an amateur artist for many years, says "drawing nudes is a fine form of artistic discipline."

PEORIA, Ill., April 3 (AP).—Phil Highfill will think twice before he teaches Tau, his Doberman pinscher any new tricks.

Recently Highfill taught Tau to lock the doors of the Highfill automobile from the inside by pushing the door buttons down with his paw.

Yesterday, Highfill left his only set of keys in the ignition when he parked the car with Tau inside. Tau remembered his trick.

A mechanic helped Highfill break into the car.

Arms Production Still Forbidden

West Powers Lift Curbs On German Industries

BONN, Germany, April 3 (AP)—The Allied High Commission eased controls on war potential industries on West Germany today to permit increased production for Western defence.

All limits were removed on the size and speed of German merchant ships. The Germans were authorized to resume the production of synthetic oil and rubber. German manufacture of synthetic ammonia, chlorine and styrene, a liquid used in plastics and synthetic rubber, is again permitted.

The Germans are still forbidden to make arms, aircraft or warships. But they are permitted to make certain machine tools, electronic tubes and primary aluminum.

The high commissioners of the United States, Britain and France also promised to waive the existing limit of 11,100,000 tons yearly on steel output "where such production will facilitate steel being provided for the common defence effort."

A West German government spokesman welcomed lifting of the restrictions. But he expressed doubt the Germans will be financially able to take full advantage of their new authority.

The Rental Freeze Should Be Let Lapse

SINCE much of the problem seems to have worked its way out, rental control should be allowed to lapse with the cessation of Federal regulation at the end of this month. The case might be different if the Dominion were going on in a wholesale program of artificial controls as in wartime, but as evidently it is not there is no call for the Provincial Government to pick up one part of that by way of renewed rental orders.

Here in Victoria, and one presumes it is similar in other centres, the public has more or less adjusted itself to the mostly free market in rentals. Much new construction has taken the load off the housing pressure, and landlord and tenant are back very nearly to the more natural and basic law of supply and demand. In spite of the vigorous influx of fresh population, Greater Victoria has straightened out the worst of its housing anomalies, and what remains would not be helped by arbitrary rental devices anyway.

There may be a latent disposition on the part of a few landlords to take advantage of decontrol when the Federal regulations end, but such a situation would quickly adjust itself. The majority of all owners recognize that conditions are changing, and have already changed, and that the sky is no longer the limit for rentals or anything else. If the Province is wise it will leave rental control severely alone.

Enlarging the Milk Board Should Help

RECONSTITUTION of the British Columbia Milk Board to make it a tribunal instead of a one-man body, as promised by Agriculture Minister Bowman, is definitely a move in the right direction. It is probable that no one will welcome the change more happily than the present chairman, Mr. E. C. Carr, who has acted alone since the Government put milk under control soon after the war.

Administration of Government policy on the production, distribution and retail sale of so essential a commodity as milk and one so subject to fluctuating conditions is far too big a responsibility for any one man. The tendency is for the public to see the man rather than the board, and the sobriquet of "czar" popularly applied to Mr. Carr can scarcely have helped him in the difficult task of putting into effect rulings and price orders made not by him but by his employer, the Government.

The minister's decision not to allow group representation on the enlarged board also reflects good judgment. Little improvement in administration could be expected from a board consisting of an independent chairman and advocates for interested, and in a sense rival, groups. The upshot in many cases would be that decision would hang on the chair's casting vote, which would put control right back where it was before, on the shoulders of one man. A board of three impartial members has a much better chance of reaching fair and workable conclusions.

Not so satisfactory to the public, however, is Mr. Bowman's flat refusal to "investigate or interfere with" milk deliveries here and in Vancouver. Rightly or wrongly, there have been repeated statements of wasteful duplication in delivery services. Unnecessary cost in that direction is reflected in prices to consumers, and since the Government has taken it on itself to control all phases of the industry, public interest demands that the same Government should do everything possible to ensure economical handling practices. An investigation with that in view certainly could do no harm and might result in substantial savings. By refusing to permit one to be made, Mr. Bowman as good as says the present system is perfect, which is a little difficult to accept.

Discontent Behind the Iron Curtain

THERE has been much wishful thinking expressed about the possibilities of a revolution from within bringing about a drastic change in Russian policies. Most of it has been uninformed and based merely on the assumption that tyranny must always generate its own opposition. Now two responsible United States public men have recorded their strong conviction that eventually Communism will collapse because of resistance by dissenters behind the Iron Curtain itself.

Lieut.-Gen. Bedell Smith, who learned something about Russian ways as a post-war ambassador in Moscow, draws an analogy between Russia of today and of a century ago. Under the czars the same type of terrorism existed, the same kind of secret police operated, and purges and slave camps were as frequent then as now. The same forces which gave rise to the present Bolshevik regime, in fact, are those which in the end will bring about its undoing. Mr. Harold Stassen, prominent Republican leader, advocates active assistance by the West to the dissident elements now conducting a clandestine war within the Soviet realm. These indicate, he believes, the growing resentment against "concentration camps, cruelty and repression."

It is a fair assumption that states like Estonia and Lithuania would jump at the chance of a restored national sovereignty, and that Soviet areas like the Ukraine are probably full of supressed discontent and ripe for revolution. Whole districts that flocked to the German banner as Hitler overran Russia, only to be repelled by savage and inhuman treatment, indicate that large groups of Russians wait only a favorable moment to be freed of their present bondage. The means to keep a nation in chains are much easier to hand than they were a century ago, however. Modern weapons have given dictators a tremendous advantage. Yet so implacable is the Soviet oligarchy in dealing with the outside world that sometimes it seems that only an internal upheaval within Russia will bring about any kind of peace for mankind in general. There would thus seem to be good reason why the counter-revolutionaries in the Soviet state should be aided to throw off their yoke.

P.-T.A. DISPLAY

Sir,—While downtown doing my shopping, I paid a visit to the educational display at present being shown in the city and sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association.

I would like to take this opportunity of expressing my admiration for this display, depicting every phase of education from nursery school to college and university level.

My attention was taken in particular by the fine display of the home economics course given in the high schools and also by the nursery school exhibit. In the latter one can see these pre-school children playing happily with a variety of toys, completely oblivious to the audience around them.

The whole exhibition and the work put into it deserves great praise and I would urge all to see it for themselves.

HOSPITAL INSURANCE

Sir,—There exists a universal awareness that hospital insurance is top-level legislation. Meanwhile the "hue and cry" is on and I notice with amazed concern the growing tendency to make political strife of this humanitarian scheme. This, of course, will fail of its own purpose since the people of British Columbia are collectively behind the act and have endorsed it beyond doubting.

Facing the truth that the original and initial payment was too low, we must also agree that in hospital-bill terms $60 per person per annum would be cheap insurance, carrying as it does the inclusive benefit of drugs, treatments, etc.

In conflict with the first ten days' levying charge, I would in preference espouse an increased premium with a Government grant to cover pensioners in receipt of $75 per month or less.

I believe it is gravely necessary to keep remembering that the Hospital Insurance Act is "ours" and in its early growth certainly not one of us wishes to forego its beneficient results in relation to both health and peace of mind. In its humanitarian conception alone it escaped beyond the mundane level of political strife, nor can it be sullied thus.

KATHLEEN M. WORTHINGTON-LAKE.

INEFFECTUAL OPPOSITION

Sir,—Kindly permit me to point out that, except in a state of national emergency, and contrary to the recent-expressed opinions of some, a coalition government is unsound in that it is able to pass legislation contrary to the wishes and best interests of the electorate and without effective opposition.

A coalition government may produce the same result as a government where one party line alone is permitted, as for example in Russia. On the other hand, effective opposition to undesirable legislation may be obtained by the combined voting of two independent parties against a third.

The only protection the electorate has is its selection of its candidate and a strong, effective opposition in the House.

"Breathes There a Man . . ."

Breathes there a man, with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my native land!
Whose heart hath ne'er within him burned,
As home his footsteps he hath turned
From wandering on a foreign strand!
If such there breathe, go, mark him well:
For him no minstrel raptures swell;
High though his titles, proud his name,
Boundless his wealth as wish can claim;
Despite those titles, power, and pelf,
The wretch, concentred all in self,
Living, shall forfeit fair renown,
And, doubly dying, shall go down
To the vile dust, from whence he sprung,
Unwept, unhonoured, and unsung.

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

SPORTS writers in England and America, I notice, by coincidence have been discussing the future of two leading exponents of their respective national games, viz.: Denis Compton and Joe DiMaggio. Each of these celebrities is at a crossroads in his career.

In the case of DiMaggio the career is almost ended, the Yankee star being on the border of athletic decrepitude, being all of 36 years old. His cricketing vis-a-vis, on the other hand, is but 28 and normally a star of his magnitude should glitter for another dozen years, since running between wickets is not so enervating as running round the bases.

Compton, as Victoria cricket fans know, has compiled a dismal record these past winter months in Australia. A scant three summers ago he scored the most runs and the most centuries ever amassed in a single season. He was expected to be the means of regaining the famous "ashes," but in fact the Test series turned out to be, for him, a deep humiliation. In each of the five games he was a total batting failure.

* * *

DiMaggio, as Victoria baseball fans know, had an in-and-out season last year, being benched at one period while in a similar batting slump and bothered with an assortment of aches and pains that effectively dimmed his lustre. At 36 these aches occur more easily and more severely than they do at 26.

The sports writers expect this to be DiMaggio's last year among the gods of the diamond. DiMaggio seems to agree with them, and his main concern, I gather, is to make it a good one. He is a proud man, as all great athletes have reason to be, and hates to think of himself as a has-been; he wants to go out in a blaze of glory befitting his status. His problem now is one of confidence, the rallying of his ego so that it won't let him down.

Self-confidence is crucial with a games player, of course. It was supreme faith in his powers that enabled Babe Ruth to call the shot in that most famous of all his home runs. If DiMaggio loses his self-confidence his swansong will be bleak.

* * *

In England the cricket writers are apprehensive lest his poor showing in Australia marks a turning point, for the worse, in Compton's cricketing career. If it affects his trust in his own ability he might never again shine so brilliantly as in the past.

Compton is perhaps paying the penalty of being too good a games player. He has a natural aptitude that makes him shine at other sports, particularly football. As Victoria soccer fans know, he has been a leading light of the Arsenal soccer club as well as of the Middlesex County cricket team. Flewin, the Portsmouth captain of the visiting English soccer team which played here last year, told this writer Compton was a better cricketer than he was a footballer, nevertheless the Arsenal winger possesses that symbol of the highest soccer skill, an international "cap."

It is a football injury, a bad knee, that seems responsible for Compton's current cricket eclipse. An operation on it last year kept him out of the Middlesex eleven for most of the Summer, and it has troubled him in Australia. As all footballers know, knees are tricky things that once set askew are not afterwards to be relied on. And good knees are needed for top-flight cricket as well as soccer.

It will be interesting, then, to watch the come-back efforts of these two national sporting figures of England and America. May DiMaggio and Compton both rally the self-confidence they need—the one to retire in a blaze of glory and the other to regain his powers for the next Test series against Australia.

America's Problem of Moral Standards

By BOB CONSIDINE

International News Service

NEW YORK.—It seems to me the most shocking thing said during the recent New York hearings of the Kefauver Committee was a passing comment by the chairman to the effect that the cesspool the committee uncovered in the nation's biggest city was no worse than, if as bad as, those exposed elsewhere.

The chairman's remarks followed those of Senator Tobey, who said that Izvestia and Pravda would have a field day with what had been uncovered in New York. Tobey added that one would have to probe the "hinterlands" of America to find decency and cleanliness in public life and government in general.

Rudy Halley, the Senate committee's brilliant young counsel, suggested that the colorful old gentleman from New Hampshire did not exactly mean what he said. And it was then Kefauver remarked that for all its revealed vileness, New York was cleaner per capita than a lot of other cities explored by the committee.

One can agree, therefore, with Tobey when he says, "It is now no longer a question of 'God bless America,' it is a question of 'God save America.'"

* * *

If what the committee found elsewhere is worse than it found in New York, it must be said that we are no longer a completely free people. We are the captives of crooks.

Using the sordid New York picture as a yardstick to measure politics elsewhere, and depending on the sworn testimony we heard before the Kefauver Committee, it must therefore follow:

1. That United States cities visited by the committee during its ten months of life possess or possessed mayors who appointed to responsible positions relatives and friends or contemptible or murderous hoodlums.

2. That vital elements of police departments through the land have been vilely corrupted and no longer serve the interests of the people.

3. That ex-convicts, rich from gambling, narcotic-running, white slavery and extortion, can dictate to officials elected in good faith by the people.

4. That the most murderous elements of the cities enjoy complete immunity from arrest and prosecution if they are wealthy enough.

5. That flagrant flouting of the anti-gambling laws by establishments is condoned in high places, either openly or through refusal to act.

* * *

6. That a vast majority of anti-racket investigations are pigeon-holed by top officials corrupted by the very underworld figures best calculated to be run out of business if the investigations produced criminal action.

7. That union officials dip deep into their hard-won or extorted treasuries to pay off politicos who have influence to alter city or state labor laws.

8. That potential witnesses against well-placed gangsters can be murdered, and actions against the gangsters concerned forthwith dropped for "lack of evidence."

9. That an important crook in your town can toss Uncle Sam anything he chooses on his income tax returns and not have to fear even as many repercussions as you, an honest person, will have if you make a tiny mistake on your own blank.

10.—That local unions, with the use of goons and thugs operating at the direction of known murderers, can defy the protestations of honest leaders and put out of business any reputable individual or firm they choose.

* * *

"What can we do about this situation?" Kefauver asked aloud, in respect to the New York crime front. He recommended a permanent United States crime commission, endowed with penal powers. So, in all fairness, did Bill O'Dwyer. But the chances are that we'll contribute to Communist Yugoslavia and Fascist Spain more money, more quickly, than this country now desperately needs to raise its own moral standard of living.

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

TWO eyes, a nose and a mouth: that is all any of us have. Yet we are all different. Different, as day from night.

We can live a long life, and in all that time see not a hundred people who remind us sharply of anyone else: and not five times in our lives would we actually mistake anyone for somebody else.

The infinite variety of the human face is one of the marvels of Nature; although I am told a canary fancier with dozens of birds soon can distinguish them one from another. Dog men have no difficulty recognizing dogs; though most of us who own a Cocker spaniel must have had the experience of whistling urgently at a perfect stranger we mistook for our own Cocker.

Among domestic animals, there is probably as much variety as there is in humans. But in wild Nature, it is a different story. Now and then a fox of particularly large size or one with peculiar markings may stand out from his fellows; but the vast majority of foxes seem to be as like as two peas. So do most wild birds. Andy Tyson, a famous Northern Ontario trapper who has won recent fame as a controller of wolves, says that this impression of sameness in wild creatures may be due to our slight acquaintance with them. Among wolves, he can see as much variety as with dogs of the same breed, each with some characteristic of size, bearing or behavior. But in the case of mink, otter, squirrels, he imagines you would have to be acquainted with several of them over a period of time to be able to detect the differences.

What strikes Andy Tyson as curious about human beings is that while they are acutely aware of the differences among them on the outside, they appear to be determined to believe that they could all be the same inside, if they would only try.

Perils of Open Democracy

(From The Financial Post, Toronto)

MUST the democracies always conduct their affairs under a public spotlight? The way the Western countries make their plans, and come to agreements, is like a company setting up its boardroom on the corner of Yonge and King in Toronto or Portage and Main in Winnipeg.

The open-mouthed deliberations of Western statesmen, the constant advice, guesses and what-not of the commentators, has put the free nations behind the eight ball when it comes to dealing with the close-mouthed, double-dealing Communist countries. "Open diplomacy" is a catchphrase that may sound beautiful but does not work. A return to some good old-fashioned secret diplomacy might get us a good deal further.

A boxer who "telegraphs" his moves sooner or later finds himself on the mat seeing stars. A card player who reveals his cards has to take his losses. A nation that does all its business through a loudspeaker and the television cameras is an easy mark.

In the United Nations Assembly and Council, the Allied representatives reveal their policy. In Congress and Parliament they tell nearly all. Every time a democratic statesman makes a move, he is dogged by reporters with pencils and radio announcers with microphones. Big international deals are made in the glare of publicity.

In the old days diplomats made their secret plans behind closed doors. They negotiated deals that lasted. They kept their enemies—or potential enemies—in the dark. The new-style diplomacy has led us down the primrose path. It can work only in a world filled with sweetness and light. It does not work with countries like Russia. War is the failure of diplomacy. Let's have some of the kind of diplomacy which — in government as in business — has a chance of success.

Let's Melt Some of the Ice

(From The Kingston Whig-Standard)

THE late Lord Tweedsmuir said that Canadians had the crunching of ice in their voices; he meant it as a compliment, but we may wonder whether the crunching of ice may not become a little monotonous.

We need a livelier tune in our speech, and a greater variety of tone. We need, in fact, to be conscious of our speech, and proud of it. The Scots are proud of the way they speak, and some of them speak superbly. The Irish are proud of their speech, and they handle words with a special magic.

And the speech of the best sort of English speaker has clarity and nobility not surpassed by any other English-speaking people. Surely we can hope for a little individuality in Canadian speech, and some distinction? Let us melt some of that ice of which John Buchan spoke.

Fun, Fact and Fiction

Looking Back

Through Colonist Files

25 YEARS AGO—The province's payroll has increased from $130,000,000 in 1922 to $160,000,000 last year, according to the annual report of the Workmen's Compensation Board.

50 YEARS AGO — In the Supreme Court yesterday Mr. Justice Walkem gave judgment upholding the validity of a by-law requiring a $25 licence fee of those practising law in the city.

85 YEARS AGO — The Masonic brotherhood will lay the cornerstone of Captain Stamp's fine building now being constructed on Government Street, the second story of which has been leased for a Masonic hall.

Contracting Business Just a Toss-Up

Business in Victoria is just a gamble. John Wade, centre, yesterday was referee in one of strangest business deals ever recorded in city. George Farmer, left, contractor, and James Lambie, right, submitted tenders on a Sidney home. Both tenders were exactly the same, $19,999. John Wade had a suggestion—"We'll toss to see who builds the house."

—Colonist Photos

Down plopped the nickel in Mr. Wade's hand. Mr. Lambie won the toss but he doesn't look too happy about it—maybe cost of construction has increased since he set his price. Mr. Farmer lost with tails, but for some reason seems pleased.

Head of Victoria's Weather Station Tells of Work Behind Daily Forecast

Yesterday the weatherman made it official.

"Spring is here," William Mackie, chief officer of Victoria's new Gonzales Observatory weather station told yesterday's Electric Club luncheon at the Monterey.

And after putting a meteorological seal of approval on the April sunshine outside, the weatherman told Electric Club members what goes on behind the forecast they read every morning in the paper.

He said the crystal ball has been losing face steadily ever since Christmas Day, 1839, when an artillery officer at Fort York slipped out of the mess to take a temperature reading and inaugurate Canada's weather service.

EMPLOYS THOUSANDS

Since then weather forecasting has grown to the extent that thousands of people all over the world are employed to talk to each other about the weather on a full-time basis.

First step is taking weather observations everywhere a trained observer can be stationed, he said. He said they consolidate their observations in an international code and send it to main weather centres where it is plotted on weather maps.

One of the most important steps is the exchange of observations among chief centres all over the world, he said.

TELETYPE NETWORK

Teletypes joined by 22,000 miles of land line connect weather offices in Canada, he said. Fifteen people in Vancouver do nothing but transmit weather observations to other stations.

Once information from all over the continent is on hand, it is plotted on weather maps, and given to forecasters. The forecaster then draws another map of what weather should logically be in 48 hours and makes his forecast by comparing the two.

When the forecast is incorrect, Mr. Mackie said, it is often because of a factor that cannot be observed in the present network of weather posts.

What is this Thing Called Shine on Furniture?

Now you can give your furniture the amazing O-Cedar Dri-Glo beauty treatment—a smear-free shine that requires no hard rubbing and lasts for weeks and weeks—so hard, so dry, spills and fingermarks wipe off easily.

In polishing furniture and woodwork there are several kinds of shines—greasy shines that smear—shines that are here today and gone tomorrow—shines that require a lot of rubbing—oily, moist shines that attract dust.

Now with O-Cedar Dri-Glo you get a shine that has none of these faults. Entirely different, O-Cedar Dri-Glo contains magic, non-oily silicone.

Just wipe O-Cedar Dri-Glo on—let it dry—wipe it off! Thrill to the appearance of the loveliest shine you've ever seen. A mirror-like finish that lasts for weeks and weeks. A smear-free finish so hard and dry that dust cannot cling to it as it does with any ordinary polish.

Enhancing the natural beauty of your furniture, O-Cedar Dri-Glo Silicone Furniture Polish also preserves and protects it. The thrifty 98¢ container will last you a long, long time because you won't have to polish nearly so often. At grocery, department and hardware stores. 5-F-91

Red Chinese Tighten Up On Security

HONG KONG, April 3 (AP).—The Chinese Communists in the frontier zone near Hong Kong have taken stricter security measures as a result of a reduction in the number of troops stationed there.

There have been reports the Communists have been pulling troops out of South China to man their armies fighting in Korea and that the Red garrison in the Hong Kong border area now is less than 10,000 men.

The Reds recently closed the frontier to unrestricted passage of persons or freight. Entrance and exit permits are required.

Observers in Hong Kong, however, regard the reduction in Red troop strength as having little bearing on the safety of the British Crown colony.

DISTANT BASE

Military men said that should the Reds decide to move against Hong Kong, their "build-up" would take place many miles from the border, probably around Canton.

More than 2,000 overseas Chinese from Malaya and about 300 from Indonesia have passed through Hong Kong in the last few weeks, en route back to China. Most were said to have been expelled from Malaya.

It was reported here that the Chinese Communists in Shanghai have been rounding up persons who can write Indo-Chinese, Indonesian, Indian, Burmese, Siamese and the Filipino languages for propaganda work against a Japanese peace treaty.

The Red press in Shanghai was said to have announced that such persons were to be used to write letters to overseas Chinese asking them to protest to their governments against the proposed U.S. treaty.

DESIGNER DIES

William Carr Nickum, nationally known naval architect, died in Seattle yesterday after a long illness. He was 77.

He was an architect in East Coast shipyards before moving to Seattle in 1916.

"Don't Put Me in Jail," Cracks Life-Termer

MONTREAL, April 3 (CP).—Louis Bercovitch, former big-shot gambler now serving a life term for manslaughter, was held in contempt of court today for refusing to testify at Montreal's vice probe.

"Don't put me in jail," cracked Bercovitch. The courtroom audience laughed.

Mr. Justice Francois Caron said the penalty would be decided later.

Several times Bercovitch refused point-blank when ordered to testify. He contended he would prejudice a petition for reprieve he had made to the Federal Department of Justice. It is based on "perjury by Crown witnesses at my trial."

FIRST HINT

Bercovitch's statement was the first knowledge the public has had of his move. Nearly five years ago he was sentenced to life for shooting Harry Davis, big-time Montreal bookie. Bercovitch, 40, was charged with murder. The jury returned a manslaughter verdict.

Almost coincident with Bercovitch's refusal to talk, an effort to start a new probe got under way in a nearby courtroom.

A petition was filed by 233 Montreal voters asking that the present or a new inquiry be directed against four former members of the police morality squad.

One is Pacifique Plante, deposed head of the squad and lawyer for the petitioners who sponsored the current probe.

DECADE-OLD VICE

The present inquiry, launched last September, is concerned with alleged vice conditions permitted by police ten years and more ago. Much of the evidence has come from small-time bookies.

In addition to Plante, others named in the new petition are Sgt. Armand Courval, Sgt. Andre Ouellette and Roger Lairemouille.

The petitioners claim the Montreal public is as interested in morality squad activities during the Plante regime as it is in the operations of the department before then. Specific charges are outlined in the petition.

The petition asks specifically that the probe cover 1946 and 1947 and the early part of 1948.

Uncle Wiggily Story - -

By Howard Garis

VERY MYSTERIOUS

The weather in Woodland where Uncle Wiggily lived in his hollow stump bungalow was getting warmer every day. The last of the snow had melted even from the hills and Uncle Wiggily hoped there would be no more snow until Christmas.

Of course Buster, Bunty and the twins Jingle and Jangle were hoping for more snow; I believe they would have been glad to see snow on the Fourth of July.

"But I have had enough of snow and cold weather, at least for a time," said Uncle Wiggily. "I want warm weather so my garden will grow. I think I will hop down to my garden now, Nurse Jane, and see if any of the lettuce, cabbage and carrot seeds that I planted yesterday have come up."

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily! Ha! Ha! Ha!" laughed the muskrat lady housekeeper. "Seeds do not sprout and grow in one day."

"You never can tell," said the rabbit gentleman. "The weather is much warmer than yesterday and perhaps I can see tiny green leaves coming up through the brown earth."

"You are going to be disappointed," said Nurse Jane. "But hop along and look, if you wish, Mr. Longears. "You will find nothing growing in your garden yet. You are going to be disappointed."

Poor Uncle Wiggily was disappointed. There was not even the most tiny green leaf growing where he had planted seeds the day before.

"Oh, well, I can wait," said the bunny uncle. "Anyhow, I do not believe there will be any more frost so I will now put in all my seeds. I planted only a few seeds yesterday."

Hopping back to the hollow stump bungalow from his garden, Mr. Longears called to Nurse Jane:

"Please give me the rest of the seeds that I didn't plant yesterday. I put in only a few seeds for fear of the frost. But I think the weather is warm enough now so that I may safely plant all my seeds in my garden."

"Yes, I think so myself," said Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy as she handed the packets of seeds to Uncle Wiggily.

As he was hopping to his garden, Jingle and Jangle hopped back of their daddy.

"Where are you going?" asked Jingle.

"To plant more seeds," answered Uncle Wiggily.

"Jangle and I are going to our garden," went on Jingle. "We are not going to plant any more seeds, for we have none to plant. But we will pick the flowers that must have come up from the seeds we planted yesterday."

"Oh, yes, you did plant some seeds yesterday," said Uncle Wiggily, trying not to laugh. "But I think you are going to be disappointed. For I must tell you that nothing will ever grow from the seeds you planted."

"Why not?" asked Jangle.

"Because they were not the right kind of seeds," said Daddy Wiggily. "I may as well tell you now, my dears, that the big, black round seed you planted was Buster's old baseball that he had lost. And the little round seeds you planted, colored red, blue, green and purple, were only some marbles that Custer had dropped from his pocket. Baseballs and marbles are not seeds and nothing will ever grow from them."

"Maybe they will, you never can tell," said Jangle. "Come on, Jingle, we'll go look."

Uncle Wiggily did not tell the little twins that he had dug up Buster's baseball and Custer's marbles and had given them to the boy rabbits.

"They will find out soon enough," thought Uncle Wiggily as he began to plant more real seeds while Jingle and Jangle hopped to their "garden," as they called it. Suddenly Uncle Wiggily heard Jingle and Jangle shouting. He heard them say:

"Oh, this is very mysterious! Very mysterious!" I will tell you more tomorrow if the goldfish does not try to raise little chickens from canary bird seed.

Rob's eyes smiled at her. "Don't think I'd be so cruel as to have developed the animal to this point if that was going to happen. Dr. Dixon gave the dog to me."

"Dr. Dixon is a peculiar individual. He keeps very much to himself. No one seems to know exactly what he does. I understand he specializes in some branch of medicine but no one knows exactly what it is."

"It's forensic medicine," Rob said. "Medicine as applied to law. The sort that has to do with cases that come up in court."

"Murder?"

"All sorts of cases. However, I don't know that he cares to talk too much about it. If he hasn't told any of the other passengers, perhaps it would be just as well if you didn't tell them."

"And when we get home you're going to plunge into your dog training?"

"I'd like to have you see my place," Rob said seriously. "I'd like to have you see my dogs, and . . . well, I hope you don't walk out of my life. You live in Faithaven . . .?"

"I'd love to see how you work your dogs," she interrupted quickly. "I have the address of your place." Rob, she said, turning to him suddenly, "do you have a car?"

He laughed. I have a battered old station wagon that I use to carry my dogs around in, but it is very decrepit."

"Is anyone meeting you . . . at the dock? . . . No?"

She said quickly, "I have just had a wireless. Some friends of mine are meeting me with a car and I'm driving home with them. How would you like to drive home in my car? You could carry all your luggage . . . I'll have the car unloaded and put in the shed so you can get in it and drive off. You'll have to put gas in it. The tank is empty, you know."

"And I'll deliver it to you when."

"Don't bother delivering it," she said. "Just leave it at your place and I'll come there to pick it up."

She broke off and frowned with annoyance as Merton Ostrander came swinging along the deck toward them.

"Hello everyone," he said.

"Linda, I'll bet you forgot all about the ping-pong tournament. You and I were scheduled to start playing five minutes ago."

She hesitated, not pretending to disguise her annoyance. "Oh, all right," she said. "See you later, Rob."

There was a frown on Rob's face as he watched them walk away. He felt that Linda had been on the point of coming to him.

Rob paced the exercise deck with the dog at his side, and then realized that Harvey Richmond had climbed to the upper deck and was watching him.

Postmen Fired In Vancouver

VANCOUVER, April 3 (CP). — Postmaster—James Turner reported today 30 city postmen were laid off Monday as a result of the Federal Government's economy drive but plans are under way to relocate the men in other branches of the civil service.

The number is considerably less than estimates made when the department first announced curtailment of residential mail deliveries from two to one a day.

Culbertson on Bridge

(Copyright, 1951, by Ely Culbertson)

If a player overvalues or undervalues a hand by a shade, and makes a bid he should not have made, or passes when he should have taken action, he has not committed an inexcusable error, because the greatest experts often make such mistakes of judgment. There is one type of bidding, however, that is unpardonable—the sort that South produced in the following deal.

West, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
Match-point duplicate.

NORTH
♠ 10 9 8
♥ 9 6 4
♦ Q 3 2
♣ A Q 8 3

WEST
♠ A J 6
♥ 10
♦ A J, 10 7 5
♣ K 9 7 6

EAST
♠ 3 2
♥ K J 8 7 5
♦ K 9 8 4
♣ J 10

SOUTH
♠ K Q 8 7 4
♥ A Q 3 2
♦ 6
♣ 5 4 2

This hand occurred in an eight-table duplicate game, and this was the auction at one table:

West	North	East	South
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♥	1 ♠
Pass	2 ♠	3 ♦	Pass
Pass	3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠ (!)
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the singleton ten of hearts, and when the smoke of battle cleared, South found himself down 500 points—bottom on the board.

South immediately took his partner to task for having twice raised spades without even adequate trump support, and said that he had had every reason to expect a better dummy than North put down. North freely admitted that he had "pressed," but he had a few things to say about South's bidding, which can be summarized as follows:

When South overcalled East's one heart with one spade and West passed, North felt that a raise to two spades could scarcely lead to trouble and that it might have some value, even if only to make it more difficult for the opponents to get back into the auction. Surely, North said, he had enough so that he didn't have to fear a two-spade contract.

Then, when South passed over East's three diamonds, North felt sure that he could "get away with" a three-spade bid as far as the enemy was concerned, and how could he dream that he would be trapped by his own partner! South, by passing to three diamonds, had tacitly announced that he was through, and so his actual game bid was utterly inconsistent.

North was right. It was inexcusable for South to pass over three diamonds and then bid again over three spades!

Richard Cains Heads Group

SOOKE, April 3.—Richard Cains was elected president of the Sooke Community Association March 30 at the annual meeting.

Other officers named were: Robert C. Gibson, vice-president; Walter Conder, Frank G. Gray, Mrs. Grant Bontar, James Forrest, Jack Myers, George Pimlott and D. J. DeRochie, directors.

The organization's financial report was read by Mr. Conder and it showed the great number of activities undertaken by the association last year.

Date for All-Sooke Day will be set later.

It was reported that an invitation was received to have a number of Sooke plays entered in the Victoria Drama Festival.

Other matters discussed were the need of bathing houses by the Sooke River swimming spot and the removal of seaweed and silt from the lower portions of the river.

How Good Can Coffee Taste?

TO find the answer — "cream" your coffee with Carnation Evaporated Milk. Even the best cup of coffee tastes better with Carnation — richer flavored, smoother, more appetizing. Yet Carnation costs only about half as much as light cream. Try it. Discover why millions of critical coffee drinkers prefer Carnation to cream in coffee.
"from Contented Cows"

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT CARNATION
CARNATION IS milk made double-rich by evaporation. It is heavy enough to whip. And it is homogenized and heat-refined, so the last drop in the can is as creamy as the first.
USE IT LIKE CREAM in coffee or tea . . . on cereals, fruits and desserts . . . in recipes that call for cream.
FOR EVERY MILK PURPOSE mix half Carnation, half water, to get fine pasteurized, whole milk — but extra smooth and extra rich in vitamin D. Get Carnation next time you shop.

The "sure-fire" gunners of the
FIELD ARTILLERY
The Canadian Army Active Force is on the alert. The highly-trained, expert gunners of the Royal Canadian Artillery stand by their guns — ready to defend Canada's freedom.
The fighting men of the Royal Canadian Artillery are expert soldiers. They are trained to work and fight in smoothly co-ordinated teams . . . and proud of it!
Canada needs more men like these "sure-fire" gunners — men who prize Canadian freedom enough to fight for it.
You can take your place beside men like these — as a member of a field gun's crew—by reporting immediately for training as a soldier of the Canadian Army Active Force. Canada needs you now! Report today!
TO ENLIST YOU MUST—
1. Be a Canadian citizen or British subject.
2. Be between 17 and 30 years of age.
3. Be single.
4. Meet Army test requirements.
5. Volunteer for service anywhere.

London Market Remains Firm

LONDON, April 3 (Reuters).—The recent improvements in the London Stock Exchange were maintained and occasionally extended today despite a decline in the trading volume at the end of the account.

British Government stocks moved fractionally higher on a renewed demand for the longer dated issues and there were fair gains in selected industrials.

Brewery shares, tobaccos and electrical equipments showed firmness.

Interest in oils was small and price changes were narrowly irregular; tins and rubbers were featureless. Profit-taking in Japanese bonds put prices fractionally lower but selected Europeans—particularly Austrians—were better.

Coppers were erratic; Kaffirs showed scattered firmness.

Stock closings: Babcock & Wilcox, 72s; Boots Pure Drug, 47s; Canadian Pacific, $52½; Central Mining, £2 9-16; Consolidated Gold Fields, 53s 1½d; Courtaulds, 42s 3d; Hudson's Bay Co., 97s 6d; Imperial Chemical, 47s; Imperial Tobacco, 100s; Metal Box, 45s; Mexican Eagle, 24s 7½d; Rand Mines, 145s.

Bonds: British 2½ per cent Consols, £68 9-16; British 3½ per cent War Loans, £92½; British Fundings 4s, 1960-1990, £104¼.

Canadian Bronze Co. Shows Lower Profit

MONTREAL, April 3 (CP).—Canadian Bronze Co., Ltd., had net profit in 1950 of $487,938, or $7.12 a share, compared with $505,276, or $2.92 a share in 1949.

LOUGHTON, Essex, England (CP).—The incentive certainly helps. Free ice cream is given children who perform their road safety drills here without any errors.

Foreign Exchange

MONTREAL, April 3 (CP).—The American dollar today closed at 5¼ per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, 1/32 lower than Monday's close. That is, it took $1.05¼ Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.94 5/16, down ¼.

Wall Street Session Among Year's Dullest

FROM I.N.S., C.P. REPORTS

The stock market recorded one of the dullest sessions in more than a year yesterday, with the day's volume totaling 1,220,000 shares against 1,280,000 the preceding day.

The list displayed a firm tone through the early hour as the market with most active leaders chalking up small fractional gains. However, when this slight upturn failed to attract a following, quick-turn traders abandoned their positions with the result that many of the forenoon gains were wiped out. However, there appeared to be good absorption power for key issues around previous closing levels.

Second-grade rail issues were prominent in a selectively higher bond market. Curb stocks showed only minor changes.

TORONTO HIGHER

Prices tended higher in fairly mixed and quiet trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange.

Activity continued its six-week quiet streak and volume was about 1,100,000 shares.

Papers, a feature group for the last few sessions, chalked up a wide list of gains to lead industrials. Foods, textiles, liquors and manufacturing companies showed a majority of advances and steels and banks were lower.

The rest of the board was mixed.

MONTREAL MIXED

Trends were mixed on the Montreal Stock Exchange and curb market and trading, although slow, was slightly improved.

The industrial market moved hesitantly from the opening bell and gains and losses generally ranged in small fractions near the close, while many leaders held unchanged. The odd issue moved a point or more.

Papers, senior metals, senior oils and banks were thoroughly mixed, while utilities displayed a firmer tone.

The industrial section was irregular.

Mines and Western Oils moved hesitantly.

VANCOUVER SLIPS

Last-hour trading on the Vancouver Stock Exchange saw oils slip and base metals ease.

Okalta led the oils with a gain of .13 to 2.78 followed by Federated with a gain of .06 to 8.55, Calmont was up .04 to 1.32, and Superior was off .01 to 1.09.

In the metals, Silver Standard was down .03 to 2.52 and Van Roi was up one-half to .44.

WINNIPEG GAINS

Oats futures reflected export business in that commodity by moving higher in all contract months during trading on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Both barley and flax posted declines while rye had some minor gains.

Trading was dull and the commercial demand was light except for the export business. Processors and local houses showed interest in flax while American accounts entered rye. Barley had routine shipper demand.

C.N.R. Shows Record Revenue, Cuts 1950 Deficit to $3,261,235

OTTAWA, April 3 (CP).—The Canadian National Railways in 1950 enjoyed the highest gross revenues in history and the biggest net operating return since 1945 and, as a result, sliced its 1949 deficit by more than $38,000,000.

When everything was balanced—including some $45,600,000 in fixed interest charges—the huge, publicly-owned transportation system reported a 1950 income deficit of $3,261,235 compared with $42,043,026 in the previous year.

The system's 1950 annual report, tabled in the Commons today by Transport Minister Chevrier, showed operating revenue totaling $553,831,561, up more than 10 per cent over the previous record of $500,723,366 established in 1949.

EXPENSES UP

Operating expenses went up, too, totaling $499,997,019 compared with $478,501,660 in 1949, but net operating revenue of $59,834,502 was almost three times the 1949 figure of $22,221,726.

Donald Gordon, completing his first year as president of the great network of 24,000 miles of rail lines and hotel and telegraph systems, warned against undue optimism over 1950 results. They should not be taken as evidence that the financial problems of the C.N.R. are "on the verge of solution."

Higher freight rates ordered by the Board of Transport Commissioners, which alone produced $28,016,000 more revenue compared with 1949, and increased freight traffic—up 5.9 per cent—were responsible for the record revenues.

Out of its $59,834,502 net operating revenue the C.N.R. in 1950 paid taxes, equipment costs and other income charges of $17,417,730 compared with $18,163,818 in 1949. After paying $24,019,158 in interest on bonds held by the public a balance of $18,397,614 was left to be applied against government interest charges totaling $21,638,849, thus producing the $3,261,235 deficit.

Of the $16,000,000 increase in operating expenses, higher prices accounted for $3,740,000 and higher wages for $6,627,000. The company's total wage bill was $318,208,185.

Since the Canadian National is the largest single employer of industrial labor and the largest single purchaser of industrial materials in Canada "it is not surprising that the effects of inflation are written large in the accounts of the system," Mr. Gordon reported.

Gains Reported By Eddy Paper

Eddy Paper Co., Ltd., and its wholly-owned subsidiary, the E. B. Eddy Co., reports consolidated net profit for 1950 of $1,247,330 or $6.40 a share of Class "A" stock, compared with $962,948, or $4.81 a share, in 1949.

The E. B. Eddy Co., which bought a majority interest in the Sidney Roofing & Paper Co. of Victoria in 1949, bought the remaining voting shares during 1950.

In the annual report, W. S. Kidd, president, said: "The effect of the defence economy is already apparent in increased demand for practically all our products, and from this viewpoint, 1951 promises to be a year of high activity."

Record Investment Boom Forecast for This Year

OTTAWA, April 3 (CP)—Canada's business men, governments and institutions are planning to swell the country's investment boom to the highest figure in history—$4,300,000,000.

George McIlraith, Parliamentary assistant to Trade Minister Howe, today tabled in the Commons a White Paper on the Canadian investment outlook for 1951.

The report said that an investment program of this magnitude, at a time when Canada is planning a huge defence program, may put "considerable strain" on available supplies of labor and materials.

The greatest detrimental factor is the lack of steel it added. Some construction projects may be delayed, but, on the whole there is optimism that the whole investment program will be realized.

The 1951 investment intentions of $4,300,000,000 are a half-billion-dollar increase over the $3,791,000,000 in 1950 and more than three times the $1,265,000,000 of 1945.

It means an increase over the accomplished 1950 program of 14 per cent in volume.

Consolidated Buys Claims In Far North

EDMONTON, April 3 (CP).—Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. Ltd. has acquired a solid block of claims stretching for 40 miles along the south shore of Great Slave Lake, and The Edmonton Journal says today the action clears the way for an expected major development of base metals on the south shore of Great Slave Lake.

The acquisition of the claims, totaling 1,099, was confirmed in an interview today by F. J. G. Cunningham of Ottawa, deputy commissioner for the Northwest Territories Council.

The company has been searching for lead and zinc in the Pine Point region along the lake's south shore for the last two years.

Cougars Grip One Cup, Reach for Second

Cougars Blank Portland 3-0 to Win Semi-Final; Meet Royals Tomorrow

By JIM TANG

Roger Leger is getting to be quite a seer. More confident than he has been all season, the coach of the Victoria Cougars insisted in the dressing-room before last night's seventh and deciding game of the Portland-Victoria P.C.H.L. play-off semi-final that his club would win it by three goals.

Roger was exactly right. Turning in one of their finest games, the Cougars blanked the Eagles, 3-0, at Memorial Arena, before 5,000 screaming fans, to reach the final against New Westminster Royals.

First game of the best-of-seven series for the Phil Henderson Memorial Trophy will be played here tomorrow night. The second is billed for New Westminster, Saturday, the third here next Tuesday, and the fourth in New Westminster next Wednesday.

If the series is extended, the fifth game will be in Victoria the following Friday, the sixth on the Mainland on Saturday, and the seventh here, Tuesday, April 17. Dates were announced last night by league president Al Leader.

ALL-VICTORIA SHOW

Last night's was an all-Victoria show. The Victorians grabbed the initiative at the start and never lost it as they undermined coach Tony Hemmerling's waiting strategy by completely outskating the Eagles from start to finish.

Hoping to get a break, the Eagles tried to play a defensive hockey game, gambling on getting the first goal and making the Cougars come to them. They could never get organized and were kept so busy defensively that they were unable to do much offensively except make sporadic forays into Victoria territory. There seemed no reasonable doubt of the outcome after the first few minutes, and when opportunist Joe Medynski flicked in the first goal eight minutes into the second period, everyone seemed to sense that the Cougars were in.

SET PATTERN

Sent out to again police Portland's top line of Walt Samanski, George Homenuke and Larry Silvestri, Victoria's Geoff Burman-Joe Evans-Medynski trio set the pattern at the drop of the first puck as it hemmed the Eagles behind their own blue line and narrowly missed scoring three or four times.

So completely did the Cougars bottle up the Eagles that Goalie Jerry Cotnoir wasn't called on to make a save until the 18-minute mark and made only two in the period. But Cotnoir's first block was a good one and it may well have been the most important of the game. Hal Hopper and Joe Cluman broke away and Cluman was passed in the clear but Cotnoir outguessed him by getting his leg on a hot drive.

KILLS BLAZER

Cotnoir was brilliant on three or four other shots before the Cougars scored their second goal, being particularly alert on a low blazer from Blinky Boyce early in the third period when Victoria was nursing a one-goal lead. Although he made only 17 stops, the agile netminder fully earned his shutout and the $200 offered by a Victoria business firm for play-off blankings.

Continued pressure paid off when Medynski cashed in on a through pass from Leger, who received the puck in mid-ice at the blue line from Joe Evans. Medynski had to battle for the puck in front of the Portland goal, finally brought it under control long enough to flip it past Hec Highton, who was not to blame for the goals which beat him.

Bob Frampton got a tough break when he hit the post with a sizzler late in the period after being passed in the clear by Reg Abbott, who just failed to get a shot on the rebound.

Medynski took the only penalty of the game in the last minute of the period, but the Eagles never managed a shot as Flori Goegan, Bernie Stropgman, Leger and Stan Long held out easily. It was a good tip-off that the Eagles didn't have it last night.

Cotnoir's stop of Boyce's bid was the most serious Portland threat in the third period, with the Cougars keeping up the pace. Andy Hebenton potted the clincher on a pretty play with his linemates ten minutes from time. Abbott took the puck into the Portland zone on the right boards with Frampton trailing and returning a pass to his centreman. The Portland defence was sucked over and Hebenton cut in from the right wing to slap Abbott's pass past Highton.

Ed Dorohoy scored on a play with an improved Ed Mazur about five minutes from time and all that was left then was to give Cotnoir his shutout. It was done without undue trouble.

Singling out Cougars for special mention is a difficult task but Abbott, showing more poise in each succeeding play-off game; Jack McIntyre, skating back every time on the ice and dangerous on the attack; Geoff Burman, a smooth performer last night; Stan Long, Leger, and Medynski played standout hockey.

SUMMARY

Portland—Highton; Sprout, Sutherland, Samanski, Homenuke, Silvestri. Subs, Brodeur, Conn, Harsburg, Fairburn, Kubasek, Hopper, Summerhill, Boyce, Cluman, Tarala.

Old Country Eleven Plays Here

Pat Mulcahy, Vancouver Island representative on the B.C. Football Commission, announced last night that Fulham of the English Football Association First Division will include Victoria on their Canadian tour this Summer.

Fulham will meet an all-star Victoria team on Thursday, June 7 to wind up the local soccer season. The English team will sandwich the game between two contests against British Columbia all-star teams at Vancouver on June 7 and 9.

Province Cup play will begin on April 15, Mulcahy also announced. Entries for Connaught Cup play will be called about May 5 with the city play-downs to be finished by the first week in June.

Bears Win By 2 to 1 Over A's

Yakima Bears evened their pre-season exhibition schedule with Victoria Athletics by taking a 2-1 decision at Santa Rosa yesterday.

Jim Hedgecock, Dick Waibel and John Brkich divided the mound chores for the A's, with the loss going to Waibel. The A's used Jim Propst in the outfield in place of Bill White, who will be reporting tomorrow.

Scouts Joe Devine and Syl Johnson of the New York Yankees and Dutch Reuther of the New York Giants were in the stands with Don Trower, manager of the Twin Falls team of the Pioneer League. All paid particular attention to Brkich, who retired the Bears in order in his one-inning pitching stint.

Detroit Red Wings Canadiens All Even

Montrealers Beaten by 4-1 Score; Leafs Beat Bruins to Lead Round

By The Canadian Press

Detroit Red Wings overpowered Montreal Canadiens, 4-1, Tuesday night in Montreal to even the semi-final Stanley Cup series at two games each.

Toronto Maple Leafs simultaneously moved one game up on Boston Bruins in Boston by whipping the Bruins 3-1 in the other semi-final in the National Hockey League play-offs.

The Red Wings struck for two goals in the first period and another pair in the third after turning back Canadiens' desperate efforts to catch up.

GET PAIR AT START

Leo Reise, who played an outstanding game for the Wings, and Metro Prystai counted in the opening period when Canadiens put on their poorest display of the night.

Elmer Lach steered in Doug Harvey's long booming shot in the middle period for Canadiens' only goal.

The early half of the final period was all Montreal's. Power plays came in rapid succession but the steady Detroit defence refused to crack and Terry Sawchuk in the nets handled the close-in chances in brilliant fashion.

A crowd of 14,428 saw the roughest game of the series. There were several threatening blowups and Gaye Stewart of the Wings drew a double minor in the second period for a sticking and a roughing joust with Tom Johnson.

FIFTH GAME THURSDAY

The fifth game of the best-of-seven semi-final is scheduled for Detroit Thursday and the sixth back in Montreal Saturday.

The Wings made their come-back the hard way and did it in convincing fashion after dropping long overtime games on their own ice.

Leafs Hold 2-1 Lead

The Toronto victory, before a crowd of 13,154, gave Leafs a 2-1 lead in games in the best-of-seven semi-finals. One game was tied. The winner will meet either Detroit or Montreal for the historic Stanley Cup, emblematic of professional hockey supremacy.

Only six minor penalties were imposed in the game, in sharp contrast to the two previous contests between these clubs when referees handed out 22 and 20 sentences.

Bruins opened the scoring in the first period on Dunc Fisher's backhander at 7:50 but from then until the end the Toronto rearguard and the veteran goal keeper, Turk Broda, thwarted every Boston attack.

SCORE TWO IN SECOND

Leafs came up with a pair of goals in the middle session, one while Boston was shorthanded, and added the clincher late in the finale.

Sid Smith and Max Bentley were the lamplighters for Toronto in the second period and Bill Barilko nipped in Leaf's third goal.

Hal Laycoe set up Boston's only goal. He stickhandled his way through a pair of Leafs, crossed the blueline and shot. Dave Creighton deflected the shot at the Leaf goal.

Broda, performing in his 101st play-off game, fell as he knocked down the disc and Little Fisher was on the spot to backhand it over him.

Bill Ezinicki had 19 seconds of a two-minute penalty to serve when Leafs tied it at 12:17 of the second period. Toronto had all five skaters in the Boston zone. Bentley passed from quarter ice to Jimmy Thomson near the blueline. Thomson shot and Smith deflected the disc to Gelineau.

FREAKISH MARKER

Leaf's second goal was freakish. Bentley was almost behind the cage when he attempted to pass our to a teammate in front of the Boston net. The puck slid off Gelineau's skate into the cage at 14:33.

The final goal was registered at 14:05 of the finale. Cal Gardner, who had received from Ray Timgren, passed to Barilko near the Boston right faceoff circle. Barilko triggered his 20-foot knee-high drive before Bill Quackenbush could get to him and the rubber whizzed by Gelineau.

Boston was hampered by injuries. Captain Milt Schmidt played with his knees as sore he could hardly bend them. Vic Lynn played only a few minutes because of a charley horse. Pete Horeck also was slowed by a similar ailment.

Young Golfers to Clash In Golf Meet Feature

Two of Victoria's younger golfers tangle in the feature first-round match of the Vancouver Island Match Play Open golf tournament at the Royal Colwood Golf and Country Club Sunday.

In the featured match are Jim Squire, co-medalist and B.C. amateur champion, and John Merriman of Gorge Vale. Squire carded a 73 in the qualifying round at the Victoria Golf Club last Sunday to share medal honors with Frank Scroggs of Uplands but the Oak Bay shotmaker will have to be at his best to dispose of Merriman, who has been shooting consistently good golf.

LOWE-McCOLL

Another feature match will be the one between Vic Lowe, young Chinese star from Gorge Vale, and Colwood veteran Bill McColl. Lowe shared third place in the qualifying round with veteran Fred Clunk. Each carded 75.

Second place in the qualifying round was shared by veterans Bob Morrison of Uplands and Vic Painter of Colwood. A total of 77 golfers competed, with a score of 80 or less necessary to win one of the qualifying positions.

Don Gowan, Gordon Verley and Dr. George Bigelow, three of the city's better-known golfers, failed to qualify. Verley tied with Helmuth Goertz, Laurie Carroll, Mickey Bartko, Bob Fleming—last year's losing finalist—and Harold Husband for the final qualifying positions but he had left town when it was found that a play-off was necessary and was forced to default.

First round draw and starting times, with qualifying scores in brackets, follow:

12 noon—Jim Squire (73) vs. John Merriman (77).

12:05 p.m.—Vic Lowe (75) vs. Bill McColl (79).

12:15 p.m.—Freddie Clunk (75) vs. W. Newcombe (78).

12:15 p.m.—Joe Pryke (76) vs. Helmuth Goertz (80).

Scroggs and Squire will play off later to decide the medal winner.

Victoria Fans May Be Seeing Double In Outfield if A's Sign White Twins

By BOB BASKETT
Sports Editor, Santa Rosa Press Democrat

SANTA ROSA, April 3.—Western International League hitters may see double when they take a look at Victoria's outfield this season.

At least, they may be giving Victoria's garden tenders the old double-take, for the Athletics have come up with a pair of highly-rated twins who just might end up as regular outfielders for the 1951 pennant chase.

Following a consultation today with chief Yankee scout Joe Devine and general manager Joe Orengo of the San Francisco Seals, Victoria business manager Reg Patterson announced that the Athletics will get a look at six-foot five-inch Bob White, right-handed hitter who powers a long ball and can take charge in the outfield or at first base. White will join the club late in May. He's now teaching at University of Southern California.

The deal with the Yankee chain completed an unusual arrangement wherein Victoria purchased Bob White's brother, Bill, an identical twin, outright from Shreveport of the "AA" Texas League. Bill was with Victoria in 1947, went to Beaumont, Texas, in 1948. He remained there in 1949 and played last season at Shreveport, where he hit .280 while rapping out 24 home runs.

Manager Dick "Kewpie" Barrett, who felt that Bill would prove just what's needed, said today he had received numerous reports on Bob White and, as he put it, sagely, "If one White's good, two Whites should be better."

Bill White is due in camp by this week-end, Patterson reported.

NOTEBOOK ITEMS

Don "Ducky" Pries, infielder on option from Portland, reported for training today. Pries has been out of baseball for two years, first with pneumonia and then with an injured back. In 1948, his last active season, he played with Oklahoma City in the Texas League and with Wilkes Barre in the Eastern League. Pries has failed only once to hit at least .300 during his minor league career.

Hard-working Tommy O'Laughlin, up for trial from Salt Lake City, looks like a good bet for outfield duty. He was voted most popular player two consecutive years while playing with the Salt Lake City Bees and twice led the loop in hitting. Barrett has nicknamed the chattery little Irishman "County Cork," referring to the lad's alleged birthplace in Ireland.

Billy Dunn, regular Athletic shortstop last year, is expected in camp within 48 hours.

Barrett proved a genuine hit while appearing on a local radio show Monday night. He cracked jokes, told stories and reported on Victoria's 1951 prospects. Did everything but play an instrument and that wasn't necessary—what with his steady stream of chatter to keep the listener roaring.

Patterson is hopeful of additional help from the Yankee chain. Rumors have it that Victoria will have to come up with the pitching help for Yank farm clubs if the Athletics are to receive any players in return. But the A's should have a surplus of mound talent, with 11 throwers, plus Barrett, now in camp.

Twin Falls, Yankee farm, opened Spring training today at Boyes Springs, in the Valley of the Moon, just 18 miles from Victoria's Doyle Park camp in Santa Rosa. The Moon territory is the site of the late Gen. Hap Arnold's ranch, and novelist Jack London's home still stands there. The Yankee bigwigs, Devine and Crew, haunt the place all Spring, liking both the scenery and the nine-hole golf course at nearby Sonoma. They're right under Patterson's nose, and player trades, options and baseball gossip runs rife when the gang gets together.

Newly-signed catcher Lileo Marcucci will work out tomorrow, then has permission to leave for San Francisco, 50 miles distant, and the Coast League ball game. He's been banging the ball out of the park with regularity and looks like a sensation.

Nanaimo Leads Series

VANCOUVER, April 3 (CP)—Edmonton Mercurys flinched under an avalanche of Nanaimo goals tonight, unable to return fire and lost ground in the Western Canada Allan Cup hockey semi-final.

Nanaimo Clippers took the third game of the best-of-five series, 6-0, for a 2-1 edge over their disorganized opponents. Fourth game of the series will be played Thursday at Nanaimo.

Mercurys, who won the opener, 6-4, trailed all the way tonight and the harder they tried the more disorganized they became. They crumbled completely in the third.

Three of Nanaimo's goals went to hard-working Jack O'Hara, who whipped the puck past Goalie Jack Manson once in the first period and twice in the second.

SUMMARY

Edmonton — Manson; Davies, Morris; Allen, Dawe, Maher, Subs: Kilburn, Purvis, Watt, Des, Miller, Dutchak, Newsome, McCauley.

Nanaimo — McManus; Kirk, Pennell; Warwick, Defelice, Culley. Subs: Waldriff, Conway, Lundmark, O'Hara, Carr, Jackson, Petrovich, Clovechok.

First Period—1, Nanaimo, O'Hara (Jackson, Petrovich) 17:15. Penalties: Morris, Pennell, Maher, Davies, Kilburn, Jackson.

Second Period—2, Nanaimo, Clovechok (Carr, Conway) 3:00; 3, Nanaimo, O'Hara, 9:16; 4, Nanaimo, O'Hara (Waldriff, Petrovich) 17:07. Penalties: Kirk, Petrovich, Conway.

Third Period—5, Nanaimo, Kirk (Clovechok, Carr) 6:27; 6, Nanaimo, Defelice (Warwick, Culley) 18:37. Penalties: Watt, Clovechok, Dawe.

Past records have been cracked. I can't recall any tournament test picking up as much glamour as quickly as the Masters golf show has known at the Augusta National and its 7,000 yards of guarding trees and flowerlands.

The fifteenth Masters, with Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson added to the cast, in many ways will be the most colorful of them all. Bobby Jones and Mary, his wife, will be on the sidelines as Cliff Roberts, the director, supervises his gallery handlers through the four-day march.

The Masters' overflowing gallery is a big part of the daily show, reminding you of rolling human surf on the last two days. In the 14 past Masters it might be noted that Jimmy Demaret, the human rainbow, has won three times, Horton Smith twice, Byron Nelson twice, Snead, Harmon, Keiser, Wood, Goldahl, Picard and Sarazen have been the other winners.

Ben Hogan and Lloyd Mangrum, two of the best in recent years, have yet to sit on the olive-crowned plateau. This also goes for Lawson Little. These names will all be written on the starting scroll Thursday, plus others who have excellent chances to break in on the winning side for the first time.

Among those you will find the name of Jim Ferrier. Last April, Ferrier was leading the field by five strokes with six holes to play. Then Ferrier played the last six holes in five over par while Jimmy Demaret finished two under par, picking up seven strokes on six holes. That was the hammer-lock.

On this occasion Ferrier returns to the hunt with a remarkable tournament record. In his last four tournaments he has won three and finished second in the other.

Ferrier is a magnificent putter and it might be mentioned that the putter's blade is a big part of this test with the immense rolling, slanting and knobby greens. A 200-foot approach putt is nothing uncommon. Ferrier can face this part of the assignment with the best in golf today, with an old-fashioned Jones-Hagen-Travers-Travis touch.

But the indigo memory of that 1950 crash down the stretch may disturb his outlook. Golf is a game where sour memories have a habit of returning to haunt the scene.

Picking the Winner

Among the leaders who seem to be better qualified to win this 15th Masters we can list Ferrier, Hogan, Nelson, Snead, Demaret, Mangrum and Cary Middlecoff.

In this list Ferrier, Hogan, Mangrum and Middlecoff have never won at Augusta. A year ago Hogan and Nelson tied at 288 for fourth place with Mangrum next at 291. Par for the course is 288 for 72 holes. Demaret, Ferrier and Snead ran 1-2-3 with 283, 285 and 287.

There are many outside factors to consider in this next Masters' rating. Snead, the nonpareil stylist, has a bad left hand that was recently broken. Hogan has played only 72 tournament holes and Nelson has been in only one tournament. Both are tournament shy. Mangrum is still nursing a bad back.

Judging from past records these golfers are the finest we have around today.

The play of Hogan and Nelson, rated on a par with Jones and Hagen from other years, will catch a big part of the galloping galleries. Snead always has his share of the thundering herd at his heels. No one else makes a finer picture to watch where ease is so perfectly blended into power.

If you care to accept a raw guess, under the physical handicaps presented, my guess would be Hogan or Ferrier with Snead always in the running, even if Virginia Sammy has two broken hands.

Mangrum is overdue here. So is Middlecoff, who has never played too well at Augusta. You can be sure this will be one of the great sporting shows of 1951, with enough melodrama to satisfy even the enormous galleries that pound around the course.

Week-End Tilts Will Decide Squash Titles

Officials of the Victoria Squash Racquets Club announced yesterday that plans for holding the B.C. Open championships have been completed. The journey will be held in the Sussex Hotel court, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The tournament was postponed from early March by request of the Vancouver entrants.

Entries already received indicate that at least 25 players will participate. Jack Larsen of the Jericho Club, Vancouver, 1950 champion, will be on hand to defend the Jukes-Goolden Trophy, emblematic of the championship.

Other out-of-town entries include Dr. Reg Wilson, Ed Gudewill, Jack Duncan and E. Kemble. A contingent from Shawnigan Lake School, led by Professor Derek Hyde-Lay, is also expected.

Fivepin Record For Season Set by Cowan

Hugh Cowan set a new season record for three games at Gibson's Bowladrome Monday night while playing in the Mixed Fivepin League.

Cowan totaled games of 317, 343 and 355 for a count of 1,015, just ten points less than the alley record of 1,025 set in 1933 by Bill Marshall.

Bowling for Windsor U-Drive, Cowan sparked his team to a clean sweep over Night Hawks.

Windsors were trailing the Hawks by three points before the games and the four points they collected gave them top spot in the third round by one point. Single Pins took third place in the standings.

STAGE PLAY-OFF

The teams will meet in a play-off with Southall Stove and Young's Radio next week for the league championship.

Southall Stove won the first round while Windsors came second and Young's Radio third. Night Hawks took first place in the second round and Windsor U-Drive and Southall Stove came second and third, respectively.

Other teams in the league, Rex Music Studio, Automotive Parts, Victoria Times, Seven-Up and Canada Packers will meet in a consolation play-off at the same time.

Ike Williams Defends Title In Bout May 11

PHILADELPHIA, April 3 (INS)—Lightweight champion Ike Williams agreed today to defend his 135-pound crown at Madison Square Garden on May 11 against Jimmy Carter of New York.

At the same time, the Trenton, N.J., belter announced that if he retains his diadem in the Carter clash, he will make a second title defence in Los Angeles on June 19 against Jim Walton.

In August, Williams promised, he will make a third title defence against either featherweight champion Sandy Saddler or lightweight Percy Basset of Philadelphia.

GIVE PLANS THURSDAY

Williams' manager, Frank (Blinky) Palermo, said the International Boxing Club in New York will announce plans for the May 11 Carter-Williams title bout on Thursday.

The action by Williams to defend his crown was obviously an effort to head off the threatened stripping of his title by the National Boxing Association.

The N.B.A.'s championship rating committee has recommended to oust Williams and declare the title vacant.

Mrs. S. Weston won the silver division in a women's medal competition at the Victoria Golf Club yesterday with a net 80. Mrs. D. R. McColl won the bronze division with a net 76.

Citadels Seen Memorial Cup Threat

QUEBEC, April 3 (CP)—Quebec's power-packed Citadels, provincial junior hockey champions, loom as the big Eastern Canada threat for the Dominion title.

"We've been four years building the team and we're now at our peak," said Kilby Macdonald, special assistant to coach Pete Martin.

The Quebecers open a best-of-five series here Thursday night against Inkerman Rockets in the Memorial Cup's Eastern Canada semi-finals.

"We've scouted Inkerman in their series with Halifax St. Mary's and offhand I'd say Citadels are a heavier club and have more depth," Macdonald said. Rockets won their best-of-seven series over Halifax 4-2 in games.

Citadels won the Junior Amateur Hockey Association championship with 33 wins and 13 losses, and eliminated Montreal Canadiens 5-4 and Three Rivers Reds 4-0 in the playoffs.

Most vital cog in the Citadels' machine is Jean Beliveau, a high-powered 19-year-old centre. He is six feet three, weighs 192 pounds and is all brawn.

Beliveau was the league's top goalgetter with 61 and finished in a tie with Montreal Nationale's Skippy Burchell for scoring honors with 124 points.

Beliveau turned down a reputed $15,000 two-season offer from Montreal Canadiens of the N.H.L. to play his last year in junior ranks with Citadels.

The fact that fans jam the Colisseum 10,000 and more for junior games and are giving him a 1951 model car at a forthcoming "Beliveau Night" makes it appear he hasn't lost out financially.

The third line has Gord Haworth at centre with Bruce Cline, Sherbrooke, Que., native, and Roger Guay on the wings.

Four big defencemen provide goalie Marcel Paille with strong protection. The blue line brigade includes Gorpon Hudson, formerly of Ottawa; Nell Amodio, a native of Glace Bay, N.S., Jean Marie Plante and Roddy Roy, two Quebecers.

Remember When . .

Moncton Hawks, playing without their injured star centre Bert Connolly, won the Allan Cup for the second year in a row 17 years ago tonight. The Hawks won the third and deciding game by 5-1 at Toronto. The Halifax Wolverines made it three straight for the Maritimes by taking the 1935 title.

Can't Write Off Tigers For This Year's Pennant

LAKELAND, Fla., April 3 (AP)—Detroit has not impressed the experts as a pennant contender this Spring.

Bouncing around near the cellar in the grapefruit league, the Tigers show no signs of improvement over 1950. Basically, it's the same club that didn't have enough last September.

"We've got the same club," said Manager Red Rolfe who speaks openly. "The same limitations of last year. Maybe we're better one place. Steve Souchock looks like he'll give us that threat of a long ball as a righthanded pinch-hitter."

Caution is advised in writing off the Detroit club. After all, the Tigers led all last Summer and finished only three games back. Having the "same club" can't be too bad in this case.

Loss of Art Houtteman (19-12) to the army carved a gap in Rolfe's slender front-line strength. But a sound Virgil Trucks (3-1) could take up the slack.

Hal Newhouser (15-13), Ted Gray (10-7), Dizzy Trout (13-5) and Freddie Hutchinson (17-8) make up the front line staff.

Catching is a prime headache for Rolfe. Joe Ginsberg, who split last year between Detroit and Toledo, is No. 1 man. Frank House, the $75,000 bonus kid, has been optioned to Toledo.

KELL THE BIG MAN

George Kell (.340) is the big man of the ball club. The talented third baseman tops the payroll this year. Kell is the best third baseman in the league and one of its best hitters.

Don Kolloway (.289) is back on first base. Gerry Priddy (.277) and Johnny Lipon (.293) at second and short round out the infield.

The "best outfield in baseball" is intact with Hoot Evers (.323) in left, Johnny Groth (.306) in centre and Vic Wertz (.308), the power man, in right. Behind them the Tigers have Charley Keller (.314), Pat Mullin (.218), and Souchock, drafted from Sacramento where he hit .291.

Golf--- Here's How

By SAM SNEAD
Golf's Greatest Player-Teacher

What "weapons" have you in your golf bag? Let's consider the six "basic" clubs. All others are "in between" clubs. From the No. 1 wood, the longest and straightest-faced club in the bag, the clubs graduate in loft of face and in length of the shaft clear down to the niblick. I omit the putter because putting is a game within a game and requires separate consideration. For beginning, players who find it necessary to limit the size of their bags, the clubs pictured here should be the start. Since the straight-faced clubs are hardest for beginners to play, use the brassie for tee shots and carry no driver. The No. 3 wood—or spoon—gives a beautiful high flight but a little less yardage than the brassie. The No. 4 wood is popular for play from the rough or bad fairway lie. The straight-faced irons are very useful where a low flight into a head wind is desired or where the yardage required isn't enough to use the corresponding woods. The remaining, more highly lofted clubs from No. 5 through No. 9 are for the shorter shots where placement, a high flight and a little run of the ball is called for.

Change Stakes At Santa Anita

ARCADIA, Calif., April 2 (AP)—Santa Anita race track will do away with its usual week-end $50,000 stakes in its 1952 Winter meeting but will broaden its schedule from 12 to 31 stakes.

The track's three $100,000 attractions—Santa Anita Handicap, Derby and Maturity—remain intact.

Replacing the $50,000 specials will be nine $25,000 stakes, nine at $20,000 and ten at $15,000.

"Better purses for better horses" was the way the track explained the revision.

Sport Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—There probably is nothing Bill Veeck would like more than to have another big-league baseball team to promote—preferably in New York. . . . Perched on an office desk, Bill took a quick tour from the "Iron Curtain" to Hawaii, with various detours, but he wound up verbally as well as physically in the Big Town. . . . "We (meaning himself and Abe Saperstein) were in Hawaii looking over some Japanese ball players," Bill began, after a quick jump from the Russian Embassy in Washington where he had discussed a projected visit inside the Iron Curtain by Abe's Harlem Globetrotters. . . . "Three of them (the Japanese, of course) looked pretty good. They're under contract in Japan, but I think maybe we can get them . . . that's the last untapped reservoir of talent and I'd like to have a few good players stashed away in case I ever get into operation again."

SMART OPERATOR

Veeck's listeners pricked up their ears because "operation" to Bill means big-league stuff. . . . It developed that he was talking about his Oklahoma City club, with an eye to the future. . . . "We already have three boys from Mexico," he continued. "You see, if you get hold of a club you can't buy a team—I'm not like Briggs or Yawkey. I have to make money . . . so I have about a half-dozen good boys stashed away and I bring them up and I'm a smart guy. . . . That's why we went independent this year. If you have a working agreement and a good player, you can't keep him." . . . A question focussed attention on the Giants, and Veeck sighed at the thought of a club which drew 1,600,000 customers in its best season.

SOCCER WORKOUT

Finishes Long Association With Navy

Robert Ryley, 482 Lampson Street, has retired after nearly half-century of service associated with Navy. Eight years were spent with Royal Navy, and more than 40 with civil service at H.M.C. Dockyard. Born in Mansfield, England, in 1869, Mr. Ryley joined Royal Navy as boy seaman at 15, starting his career aboard training ship H.M.S. Ganges. He joined Dockyard staff in 1910.

Long Dockyard Career Ends for Robert Ryley

MARINE AND TRAVEL NEWS

After nearly half a century of service—eight years with the Royal Navy and more than 40 with the civil service at H.M.C. Dockyard—Robert Ryley, 482 Lampson Street, has retired.

During his time with Dockyard, Mr. Ryley saw the establishment pass into hands of the Canadian Government from the British Admiralty, and watched development of the R.C.N. from its small beginning — when sailors wore wide straw hats—through several periods of expansion, up to the present time.

Born in Mansfield, England, October 23, 1886, Mr. Ryley joined the Royal Navy as a boy seaman at the age of 15. His career started aboard the training ship H.M.S. Ganges. For three years he served with the Home and Channel Fleets of the R.N., and later was stationed at Harwich for a time.

CAME HERE IN 1906

In 1906 he came to Canada to join the 980-ton sloop H.M.S. Shearwater—the only ship of the Pacific Fleet then at Esquimalt.

He served for two commissions in Shearwater, which operated between the Bering Sea Patrol, on fisheries duties with the U.S.S. Bear, and on cruises to British possessions as far south as Valparaiso to check uprisings among the natives. During his time aboard the sloop, two important events took place at the local naval base: H.M.C.S. Rainbow, the Royal Canadian Navy's first ship, arrived here; and later he had the honor of hauling down the British flag over the Dockyard for the last time when the Canadian Government took over in 1910.

JOINED DOCKYARD

He was discharged from the R.N. in 1910, and for the next two years lived in H.M.C. Dockyard. His first job there was as a guard at the main gates, and later he became a telegraphist. The following year, when the first Dockyard stores were set up, he was appointed victualling storehouseman. In 1927, he became foreman of stores, remaining with that post until 1939.

At the outbreak of the war he was named naval stores office representative, and for the next five years traveled extensively up and down the Coast.

BASE CLOSED

He became naval stores officer at Prince Rupert in 1944 and remained there until the base closed two years later.

Returning to Esquimalt, he was named victualling stores officer, a post he held for some time before being appointed inspector of stores. He held this post until his retirement.

Mr. Ryley was married in 1915 at Esquimalt. He has one daughter, Mrs. Muriel Brown of 1138 Bewdley Avenue.

MICMAC TO RESCUE

The Canadian Navy destroyer Micmac interrupted her Spring training cruise in the Caribbean yesterday to take a disabled Dominican passenger vessel in tow.

The destroyer, in the Caribbean with the aircraft carrier Magnificent, found the 500-ton J. R. Gilbert powerless 180 miles north of Curacao, off the South American coast. The vessel had been drifting for two days.

The navy at Halifax said the Micmac will tow the Gilbert to port, with the carrier standing by.

The two ships, on the second leg of their training cruise, were on the way from Bermuda to Port of Spain, Trinidad, at the time. They were due in Trinidad, Thursday.

LONDON (CP). — Firemen laid hundreds of feet of hose up nine flights of stairs looking for a "fire" in a Battersea power station. The "fire" turned out to be the light reflected in the uptake of a chimney stack.

Members Take Last Opportunity To Needle Attorney-General

IN THE LEGISLATURE

The Legislature will sit as a committee on estimates again today at 2.30 p.m.

By LAWRIE JOSLIN

The members of the Legislature were taking advantage yesterday of a last chance to throw a harpoon at the attorney-general when Mr. Wismer's estimates came up for [illegible]

It took the House nearly two hours to approve the first item of the departmental estimates, which contained Mr. Wismer's salary.

Finally chairman Don Brown (Cln., Vancouver-Burrard) made a plaintive appeal.

"Shall we not give this poor chap his wages?" he asked.

The attorney-general had explanations ready for the members' queries, and when a new point appeared to be raised he offered a guarantee to go into the matter as soon as possible.

Despite Mr. Wismer's obliging mood, the estimates of his department still had not been closed when the House rose.

WINCH HAS TROUBLE

Opposition Leader Harold Winch complained that he had experienced trouble getting information out of the attorney-general's department, particularly at times when Mr. Wismer was out of town. He asked the minister to leave his department so that it could operate when he was out of town.

"I do," protested Mr. Wismer. "What do you think I do, take the key away with me?"

The Opposition leader wanted to know the extra charges facing the Government and what were the inconveniences forced on the public through the transfer of policing to the R.C.M.P. He said that in some cases charges were being made for serving summonses. Where motor vehicles licence bureaus had been discontinued in smaller centres, the public was being inconvenienced, he charged.

Mr. Wismer replied that before the R.C.M.P. took over, half the time of the B.C. Police was taken up filling out forms required by extra duties imposed on them. He said he was trying to work out a plan to serve outlying communities where motor vehicle bureaus had been discontinued.

NOTON TAP

The minister said he was unable to provide figures of the cost to the Province of performing some of the services formerly carried out by the B.C. Police.

"It would be a mere trifle compared with the amount that is being saved," he asserted.

Answering B. M. MacIntyre (Cln., Mackenzie), the minister said it was estimated the Province was saving $37,800 through issuance of licence-plate strips and $37,100 through issuance of five-year drivers' licences.

Issuance of motor vehicle licences on a staggered basis was being considered, he said.

Arthur Turner (C.C.F., Vancouver East) seemed intent on giving the Government more headaches by advocating another form of insurance —Government automobile insurance.

Mr. Wismer replied that the Government thought it was doing right with present automobile insurance regulations in force.

He said he would follow up a suggestion of Rupert Haggen (C.C.F., Grand Forks-Greenwood) that United States tourists be given the opportunity to take out short-term [illegible] border.

The attorney-general expressed hope that a small treatment centre for drug addicts could be established.

STRAIGHT ANSWER

He made the statement in answer to E. E. Winch (C.C.F., Burnaby) who wanted "concrete facts" and asked the attorney-general "not to string us along."

"The string is getting near the breaking point," he stated.

"He's gunning out of string," suggested Mr. Turner.

"A lawyer never runs out of that kind of string," observed Mr. Winch.

Indicating Federal Government responsibility in a drug treatment centre, Mr. Wismer declared:

"If I had my way and I had the money I would start this tomorrow."

NO DECISION

Mr. Wismer told the House that it had not yet been determined where the radical Doukobor Sons of Freedom were to be located. A report from a special investigating committee was being awaited.

"I hope the Sons of Freedom will recognize that we are trying to solve this problem in a reasonable and Christian way," he said, adding that the great majority of Doukobors are good people.

H. J. Welch (Cln., Comox) observed that Doukobors at Hillers are proving to be first-class citizens.

Changes in the Game Act to make the fine for trespassing greater than $10 was requested by Arthur Ash (Cln., Saanich). He said trouble had been experienced in his riding because of trespassing hunters using force against farmers. The change in the act had been suggested by sportsmen and farmers, he added.

Peanut Day Quite Legal Despite Street Sale Ban

THE Victoria Optimist Club will be within the law if it sells peanuts from off the street locations during its annual Peanut Day May 26.

The city has no power to prevent the sales as long as they are not made on the street.

City Council recently refused the club permission to make the sales because it was felt such a scheme is along the same lines as tag days, which recently were limited to four annually.

Club officials were strongly critical of the council ruling in view of the fact proceeds from Peanut Day go towards the boys' work fund.

Be selective... be sure...

. . . not just "linen" for your summer suits and dresses, but TOOTAL LINEN, with its superb quality and wide choice of shades and textures. Woven from selected flax, it can be washed again and again without losing its surface appeal. It is hardwearing. To help or assure good grooming it is marked 'Lebilized' for tested crease-resistance.

By the yard at better stores, $2.50 yd.

Tootal Fabrics are unique today for their superb texture and suppleness, their truly remarkable strength and resilience . . . there simply is nothing to equal them. Why? Because Tootal of Manchester, England, have been making fine fabrics during many years of patient research and experiment, backed by the creative skill of master craftsmen and designers. That is why you will always be safe with TOOTAL

Central Saanich Council Ponders Taxes in Secret

Central Saanich Council met in closed committee last night to reckon up the cost of independence.

Entire council with Ian Ross, chartered accountant, met after the regular council session to consider estimates for the coming year.

[illegible] ing is scheduled for 8 p.m. tomorrow to consider the committee's findings so that the mill rate for the new municipality can be struck.

Reeve Sydney Pickles was hopeful that the ratepayers of Central Saanich would know what their taxes would be by the end of this week.

In going into committee, Reeve Pickles pointed out that the public would be excluded with the exception of Mr. Ross, Mrs. Ray Lamont and P. F. Warren.

CONTRAST

Move to hold a closed session came as a direct contrast to Reeve Pickles' attitude to meetings of the apportionment board, to which he has referred on numerous occasions as "sittings of the Star Chamber."

At the council meeting earlier, Reeve Pickles reported that council's attempt to seek an interview with Premier Byron Johnson had failed.

Application for an interview had been made by Central Saanich as it had been felt that no progress was being made in dealing with the Minister of Municipal Affairs. The council was told that the matter of pressing for an independent appraisal of assets would be best dealt with by the Municipal Affairs Department.

Members of the council, accompanied by a delegation of ratepayers, will meet the minister tomorrow morning to attempt to get an independent appraisal started.

ENTIRE SLATE

Despite an overwhelming vote against the measure, at a public meeting last week, Central Saanich council voted to include in the Validating Act a clause making entire-slate voting compulsory.

On a motion from Councillor Willard Michell, a rider was attached providing that this clause should not come into effect until a plebiscite on the question had been put to the voters.

Decision came at the end of a heated discussion in which Reeve Sydney Pickles and Councillor Ray Lamont were ranged against the other council members.

"You are doing this in the face of marked opposition from a large proportion of ratepayers, who voiced their opinion on the matter at the public meeting," Reeve Pickles said.

NOT BOUND

"Before the meeting you said that the council could be guided by the decision of those attending, not bound by their feelings," Councillor Harold Andrew countered.

"These things should be discussed in committee, however."

Councillor Andrew pointed out that the matter of the public meeting had not been brought up at any committee meetings.

"I know what you people are up to," Reeve Pickles asserted.

"If this council does not represent the people, who does it represent?" asked Councillor Ray Lamont. He received no answer.

CHIEF CONFIRMED

Council confirmed the appointment of H. McNichol as chief of the Central Saanich Volunteer Fire Department.

Other appointees on the department are Arthur Beltzer and Victor Heal as deputy chiefs; E. Logan and A. Butler, as fire captains for the west section of the municipality, and Bert Bickford and A. Johnson as east section captains.

On a motion by Councillor Michell, the Reeve was appointed to negotiate with the Provincial Government for a piece of property at the corner of East Saanich Road and Wallace Drive, finally settled upon as a site for the new municipal hall, fire hall and municipal yard.

COLWOOD SOFTBALL

Annual meeting of the Colwood and District Softball League will be held at Luxton Hall tonight at 8 o'clock. All team managers and area representatives are requested to attend.

Mrs. Mae H. Bell, Liverpool, Queen's Co., Nova Scotia, attended a party a few months ago and in the course of her conversation with some other women told them how she had relieved arthritic pain by taking SARNAK after having suffered with the pain for almost three years. Two of the women suffered with arthritis themselves and when Mrs. Bell spoke of SARNAK and her own experience, they told her she should have us publish her own statement so here, in her own words, is what Mrs. Bell has to say:

"I suffered from arthritic pain for three years and last Spring suffered pain so much in my shoulder, arm, fingers and ankles that I could hardly stand it. I tried different kinds of pills and medicines but nothing gave relief. Then a friend told me to try SARNAK. I took eight bottles of SARNAK and almost from the beginning I had relief. Now I wouldn't be without SARNAK in the house and I am glad to tell everyone what SARNAK has done to bring me relief."

Try SARNAK This Spring

After a long Winter resistance is often low and you have a feeling of general tiredness, lack of energy and vitality. When you feel this way old troublesome symptoms often cause suffering. SARNAK is so effective for aches and pains and general run-down condition that you usually get results within the first few days.

Make up your mind to give SARNAK a chance to help you this Spring as it has helped thousands of others who had gone on day after day suffering. Thousands of bottles of SARNAK are sold every day in Canada. Remember, there are no substitutes for SARNAK. Always insist on the genuine SARNAK. In some rural sections, where there are few drug stores, SARNAK may be difficult to obtain. Don't pay anyone more than $1.85 a bottle. Order by mail from your druggist or mail order house, to assure yourself not paying grey market prices. If one druggist does not have SARNAK, try another.

Scrolls Presented To Men of Cayuga

All men aboard the destroyer Cayuga were recently presented with a special "Korean Service Scroll" on which it is noted the bearer was among the first to serve with the United Nations in action.

The scroll, measuring about six by eight inches, was designed by C.P.O. Hugh Dunbar and Cmdr. C. R. Parker, D.S.C., executive officer of the warship, both of Victoria.

[illegible] were presented as souvenirs to the destroyer's men immediately prior to the ship's departure from Pearl Harbor last Saturday afternoon.

Congressman Charges Army Wants Control

WASHINGTON, April 3 (INS).—A Republican Congressman today charged "top-secret" documents in his possession show "the Pentagon clique" wants to place the military in charge of industry, labor, the national economy and the press.

Representative Werdel of California told the House in a prepared speech that one of the documents was written by Hitler's last chief of staff, Heinz Guderian, two years ago at the request of top American officers.

The Californian, whose talk came in the midst of House debate on the Draft-Limit Bill, said the Guderian document proposes "some of the things we have heard in the present arguments in connection with our draft law."

Werdel said leaders of the "Pentagon clique" are Defence Secretary George C. Marshall, Army Chief of Staff Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg and Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Werdel said the documents had been "classified" for political reasons and that he was disclosing their contents because he believed they would have no value to the enemy.

Calgary Boosts Transit Rates

CALGARY, April 3 (CP). — City Council has approved an increase in transit fares from the present seven tickets for 50 cents to a straight three for 25 cents.

At the same time, council referred to the commissioners a proposal to raise the price of children's tickets from the present 10 for 25 cents to either eight or six for the same price.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Tag Day Limit Said Bar To I.O.D.E.'s Milk Aid

City Council's decision to issue permits for only four tag days in Victoria this year has been accused of threatening to rob needy children of milk.

Mrs. C. L. Bishop, regent of the Victoria Municipal Chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, said yesterday the group would have to cease its supplementary milk purchases for needy families if the I.O.D.E.'s application for a tag day was not granted.

The council has already turned down the application, but now has before it a letter from the order asking for reconsideration.

"ALWAYS CALLED ON"

The I.O.D.E. regent said the order was "always called upon to handle emergency tag days when money is being raised for flood relief or food from Britain."

"We don't want to criticize the City Council," she said. "But now they turn us down on our own tag day."

Last year the I.O.D.E. chapter raised approximately $1,000 on its tag day. The money went for supplementary milk rations to needy families with children, mostly families of veterans.

Mrs. Bishop said yesterday the order had no source of funds for its milk buying other than the tag day.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4, 1951

Today's Quotation: "All happy families resemble one another; every unhappy family is unhappy in its own fashion."—Count Leo Tolstoy.

Wednesday for Everyone: Proceed with tact, discretion, particularly in dealings with elders and those who wield authority over you. Make sure you are on sound ground in all transactions.

Look for your birthdate and birth-sign below:

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—all issues "in the clear"; take pains to forestall antagonisms, overcome difficulties.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus)—Put a curb on outlays for recreation. Ill-chosen companions might prove unduly expensive.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Call upon your innate understanding and diplomacy to help you overcome "headaches."

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer)—Don't be upset if shifting events show the weakness of your program; it needs reconsideration.

July 23 to August 22 (Leo)—Be guarded re finances of others, their capacity to make loans or payments.

August 23 to September 22 (Virgo)—Make a special effort to avert disputes over opinions and outlooks; stay calm.

September 23 to October 22 (Libra)—Center your thoughts on physical welfare and job consideration. Be diet-wise.

October 23 to November 21 (Scorpio)—Take up the pursuit of your favorite projects but be discreet on the monetary or social front.

November 22 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—Strive for stability, accord; don't provoke clashes or let feelings sway judgment.

December 22 to January 19 (Capricorn)—Investigate matters before engaging in travel, resolving issues, or signing papers.

January 20 to February 18 (Aquarius)—Tread a cautious path if doubts exist concerning cash or the worth of articles; get facts.

February 19 to March 20 (Pisces)—Follow the path of least resistance; underscore dignity, balance.

Planning Ahead—Good for sociability, entertaining, etc.: April 7, 10, 11, 12, 16; afternoon and evening of the 17, 20, 24; evening of the 28.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian West. The figures for height serve to distinguish high-water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during intervening times between the high and low waters as given. It must be subtracted from the heights in this table to conform with the datum of soundings on the charts of the locality.

Truman Sure About Defence

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP).—President Truman expressed confidence tonight that the United States and its allies will go forward "with the speed and vigor" in building defences against Communism.

He issued a statement one day after the Administration suffered a setback in the Senate on the troops-for-Europe issue. The Senate approved an amendment saying that no more than four additional American divisions should be sent to Europe without the approval of Congress.

The President made no mention of that reverse in a statement he issued to mark the second anniversary of the signing of the North Atlantic Treaty, pledging mutual defence against Communism. The treaty was signed two years ago tomorrow.

Mr. Truman said the people of the United States and of Europe "must accept heavy burdens" but with confidence that they are able to defend themselves under the treaty.

Name of Pill Must Change

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP).—The Government has ordered Carter's to knock the word "liver" out of Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Furthermore, the Federal Trade Commission said today, Carter's must stop saying without qualification that its pills are what you need when you're down-and-out, blue, listless, fagged out, down-in-the-dumps, irritable, bilious or sullen.

The F.T.C. conclusion, as summed up in an accompanying statement by Commissioner John Carson:

"Carter's Little Liver Pills were and are, as the findings of fact show, nothing more than an irritative laxative compound."

The company, officially known as Carter's Products, Inc., will test the decision in the United States Court of Appeal.

In Ottawa, an official of the Health Department said he did not wish to "commit myself on whether Canada will consider similar action" on Canadian-manufactured Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Hospital Plan Hit Sharply

The B.C. hospital insurance scheme was sharply criticized last night by Lyle Wicks, president of the B.C. Social Credit League, and vice-president Thomas McGibbon.

They addressed a meeting of the league at Orange Hall here.

"People are up in arms over the administration of the scheme," said Mr. McGibbon, "and the longer they have it, the more it will cost the people."

He said the present Coalition Government is a "poor type of Government" and one that is not representative of the people.

SAID "RED HERRING"

Mr. Wicks termed the hospital insurance scheme a "red herring" from the point of view of figures.

"We detest the scheme and feel that we should never have had it," he said.

He said that a resolution from the Social Credit League had asked for a Royal Commission investigation into hospital insurance.

Mr. Wicks hit out at Government misuse of food surpluses and said that these surpluses should be made available to the nations of the world that need this food.

Paid No Heed to Siren—Two Pay Fines to Court

Failure to heed the siren on an emergency vehicle on March 29 cost two motorists a total of $30 in fines in city police court yesterday.

Magistrate H. C. Hall fined Daisy [illegible] for failing to pull over to the curb when a Victoria Ambulance Service driver, D. D. Carlow, was on an emergency run on Hillside Avenue.

Constable Norman Galbraith said he was following the ambulance in a patrol car, which also had its siren on, and the accused "didn't pull over to the curb for nearly two blocks."

"SHOULD HAVE HEARD"

"I should have heard the sirens if they were going the way they say they were," accused said.

Ronald A. Wood, 335 Gorge Road, charged with a similar offence, was also fined $15.

According to Const. Galbraith, accused failed to heed the same siren on the Gorge Road and didn't pull over to the curb until he was past a construction barricade.

LONG BEFORE

"You should have heard the ambulance siren long before you say you did," said Magistrate Hall.

James Robert Russell, 2605 Forbes Street, was fined $10 for failing to dim his car headlights.

Kenneth Shippen, 1827 Quadra Street, charged with a similar offence, pleaded not guilty and was remanded to Thursday for trial.

Highway Accidents Drop In Province During 1950

SHARP drop in the number of highway accidents was recorded during 1950 as compared with 1949, despite a 16.5 per cent increase in the number of cars in British Columbia.

The Provincial Motor Vehicle Branch reported yesterday there were only 18,029 accidents in 1950 as against 19,061 the previous year.

During the past year 175 persons died and 5,720 persons were injured in automobile accidents, compared with 184 deaths and 5,194 injuries in 1949.

Property damage resulting from accidents rose from $3,769,821 in 1949 to $4,266,784 in 1950.

Number of motor vehicle and motorcycle licences issued during the year jumped from 227,170 in 1949 to 264,721 in 1950, an increase of 16.53 per cent.

Mayor Would Free Police From Meters

Mayor Percy E. George yesterday came out in favor of relieving policemen of the duty of riding herd on the city's 970 parking meters.

"I think it would be a step in the right direction and would take away that burden from the police department," he said.

Mayor George felt men sworn in as special constables could handle the job so policemen would be freed for more important police work. He thought the move especially timely because the police commission recently approved hiring only four new policemen. Chief John Blackstock had requested eight.

Police Commissioner James Neely suggested that able-bodied men over 50 years of age could be used for the meter job.

Commissioner Brent Murdoch said rookie policemen should do the job as part of their training.

Dawson Named By Committee For Sewer Job

Saanich Municipal Engineer H. D. Dawson will be placed in charge of the sewer installation if a recommendation of the sewage and drainage committee is approved by Saanich Council.

Committee chairman Leslie Passmore said last night if the council approved the recommendation a new engineer probably would be required to take over Mr. Dawson's municipal duties.

Work will begin soon on the Saanich system after a 30-day waiting period required for final ratification of the recently passed $2,100,000 sewer by-law.

The committee recommended that two survey parties be formed to establish pump locations and to determine basement and street heights throughout the sewer area.

The committee further recommended that persons building new homes be allowed to install temporary wooden septic tanks pending completion of the sewer system. It is estimated that the project will take about three years to complete.

Council is expected to approve the recommendations at its next meeting.

Caucus to Study Teachers' Pensions

EDUCATION Minister W. T. Straith declared yesterday that changes in legislation governing pensions for retired teachers would be fully discussed by the Government, and indicated the matter would be presented to a Government caucus.

Teachers have protested a Government announcement that it was proposed to cut the Province's contribution to the teachers' pension fund from 7 to 6 per cent.

Material Lack Brings Slash In Implements

CHICAGO, April 3 (INS)—International Harvester Company, giant farm equipment firm, today announced stiff cuts in production of three models of tractors and 16 major farm implements because of material shortages.

Officials said that factories that will be affected by the cuts include the tractor works and McCormick works in Chicago, Rock Island, East Moline, Canton and Rock Falls works in Illinois; Richmond, Ind.; Louisville, Ky., and Memphis, Tenn.

The company announced:

"The Government has now issued an order giving defence order status to farm equipment to help the industry obtain materials during June. . . . However, anything done now will not cure the situation for May and June shipments."

Prizes Offered For Amateurs

Can you sing, whistle, play an instrument, juggle, or entertain in any way?

If the answer is yes, there may be cash and merchandise prizes awaiting you at the B.C. Products Fair.

Don Anderson, general chairman of the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce event, yesterday disclosed details of the British Columbia amateur contest in conjunction with the fair.

Application forms are available at radio station CJVI, and the amateur contest is open to anyone born in British Columbia. Through a series of weekly elimination events, 16 entertainers will be selected to compete during the fair at the Memorial Arena, May 8 to 12.

Eliminations will be staged each Saturday, starting this week.

Of the 16 chosen to perform at the fair itself, four will appear each of the first four nights, and on the last night the four winners will compete. Prizes will be awarded to all four—$50 for first, $25 for second, $15 for third, and $10 for fourth.

First-Aiders Of City Firm Enter Contest

A five-man first-aid team from the Sidney Roofing and Paper Company will enter a first-aid contest sponsored by the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association in Vancouver Friday.

Team members will be R. J. Jarrett, captain; H. S. Edwards, P. Frietag, P. Deacon, G. Astbury and Kenneth Cole will act as a spare.

The men have been training hard for some time under the company first-aid attendant, W. H. Gardner of the St. John Ambulance Association.

TWO PROBLEMS

Teams from six mills in the Western division of Canadian Pulp and Paper Association will each be given two problems and an oral examination. Individual prizes of watches will be awarded members of the winning team and a silver cup to the team as a whole.

Awards will be made at a dinner in the Hotel Georgia under the chairmanship of association executive member Logan Mayhew of Victoria.

The Sidney Roofing team took second place honors at a similar contest two years ago.

The men will leave Victoria Thursday night, accompanied by company personnel manager A. E. Ramer.

Officer Named To Help Talks

Victoria Conciliation Officer W. T. McLaughlin will assist in negotiations involving 12 employees of Mooney's Body Shop and ten employees of the Victoria Roofing and Insulation Company, the Labor Relations Board announced yesterday.

Represented by the Automotive Maintenance Workers' Federal Union, Local 151, employees at Mooney's Body Shop are asking for an agreement covering union security, wages, hours and statutory holidays.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local 786, bargaining for employees in the other dispute, is seeking a wage increase of 20 cents an hour.

Golden Gavel Contest Opens

The first of three elimination contests in connection with the Golden Gavel speaking competition will be staged at 8 tonight at the City Hall council chamber.

Participants will be: Mrs. J. Luchinsky, Mrs. C. C. Warren, Ronald Boulden, J. de Vertueil, A. V. Sluggett, W. H. Smith, R. Passmore, D. H. Doodwn and P. Lanigan.

Sturgess Speaks To Purchasers

Thomas Sturgess of the Provincial Department of Trade and Industry will be guest speaker tonight at a meeting of the B.C. Purchasing Agents' Association (Victoria Branch). The Pacific Club dinner meeting will start at 6 p.m.

Mr. Sturgess will speak on "The History of Manufacturing in British Columbia."

Navy Sponsorship Of Show Denied

THE Navy Show is in no way connected with the Royal Canadian Navy.

Rear-Admiral Wallace B. Creery, Flag Officer Pacific Coast, made this statement yesterday in answer to published reports about the stage production to be presented at Victoria High School auditorium, April 9 to 12 inclusive. It is being sponsored by the Cosmopolitan Club.

Admiral Creery added that the band of H.M.C.S. Naden would not play at the show, nor would other R.C.N. personnel participate.

Lawyer Says Saleswoman Admitted Giving Out Merchandise Without Slips

Statements by the accused to city barrister P. J. Sinnott that she had given out goods without making out sales or charge slips were submitted as evidence yesterday in Assize Court in the trial of Mrs. Wanda Abbott, city saleswoman.

Mrs. Abbott is charged on ten counts of theft from her employers, MacDonald's Ltd., 712 Yates Street.

Mr. Sinnott testified that he read the accused a report from George MacDonald, managing director of the firm, and asked her if the statements contained in it were true.

DENIES CHARGES

Mrs. Abbott said at first that they were not, he continued.

The lawyer said he told the accused that the report had been prepared from information furnished by a Mrs. Jones, a private detective working in the store.

Mrs. Abbott said she knew Mrs. Jones and then admitted that some of the statements were true, Mr. Sinnott testified.

The accused admitted to wrapping a double hotplate November 2 and having it delivered to 1406 Chambers without making out a sales slip, the lawyer said.

PAID ON STREET

Asked if the woman who received the plate had paid for it, Mrs. Abbott said at first she didn't know and then said "she paid me on the street."

In two other cases, the accused said she had been paid for the articles, but had kept the cash, Mr. Sinnott said.

Mrs. Abbott had stated: "I am responsible for thefts during the past two weeks," and "I realize that I have committed a criminal offence," Mr. Sinnott said.

Mr. Sinnott said he had "held out no inducements, promises or threats," to the accused and was "merely conducting an inquiry."

LAWYER'S DUTY

Asked by Defence Counsel J. A. Byers if he did not think such investigations should be conducted by police, Mr. Sinnott replied: "No. It's one of the duties of a lawyer."

Mr. Byers suggested the alleged admissions of guilt were really questions.

Mr. Sinnott said he did not think they were.

Asked why he had asked Mrs. Abbott to come back the next day, Mr. Sinnott replied that he had wanted to question her in connection with other missing goods.

SERVICE CHIEF

Second Crown witness was Bertram F. MacDonald, head of the store's service department.

Mr. MacDonald produced notes which he said he had taken of transactions in which Mrs. Abbott was involved.

Store practice was to make out sales slips in triplicate for all purchases, he said.

"In some cases, I'd find no evidence of cash received or the article being charged."

City, Esquimalt Show Decrease In Construction

Building permits for construction worth $290,000 were issued by the city building inspector during March.

The figure shows a considerable drop from the corresponding month last year, when construction was valued at $866,703. Several large projects contributed to last year's high figure.

Total construction since the start of the year is valued at $1,689,442, compared with $1,784,442 for the similar period last year.

The downward trend was borne out by Esquimalt's March total which showed eight permits valued at $19,250, as compared with $41,700 for March, 1950.

Esquimalt's first-quarter total for 1951 was $502,170 for 37 permits, as compared with 43 permits valued at $102,690 for the same period in 1950. The apparent increase this year was due mainly to a permit valued at $370,000 for the Esquimalt High School addition and one for $60,000 for a warehouse.

Delegates Named By Oak Bay P.C.'s

Nine delegates to the Victoria Federal Conservative Association were elected last night at a meeting of the Oak Bay Progressive Conservative Association.

Named were Major Keith MacDougall, R. A. Wootton, Mrs. D. C. S. MacArthur, Mrs. J. A. Horsfield, Col. H. T. Goodland, Major F. V. Longstaff, L. W. Makovski, Capt. L. S. Daynes and A. deB. McPhillips.

Delegates will attend the first annual meeting of the Victoria Federal Conservative Association at St. Mary's Hall, April 6.

Deny Talk Army Won't Help Filming of "Here to Eternity"

HEARD IN HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, April 3 (INS)—Rumors that the army is clamping down on Columbia and refusing to co-operate in filming the best-selling novel, "From Here To Eternity," are not true.

What has actually happened is that S. Sylvan Simon, the producer, went to Washington and outlined the plans Columbia has for changing the story. The Department of Defence found nothing objectionable in the Columbia script.

* * *

START FROM SCRATCH

Last September when "Wildfire" was being filmed near Missoula, Montana, you'll remember Victor Mature fell off a motorcycle and injured the ligaments in his leg. One accident after another happened so the picture was called off.

Now Sam Engel, the producer, is having a whole rewrite job done and getting "Wildfire" ready to go in June or July.

Glenn Ford will be given the top role.

WORST LOCATION

Raoul Walsh, directing Gary Cooper in "Drums of Destiny," writes that the location in Florida is the worst he's ever encountered.

Before Gary went to Florida he spent a few days in Havana deep sea fishing with Ernest Hemingway. Hemingway is working on a new novel and his hero is a sort of Gary Cooper type—aren't they all?

Hemingway promised Gary he'd visit him in Florida and they'd try to get in a little more fishing. Bet Hemingway won't go while they're in the swamps!

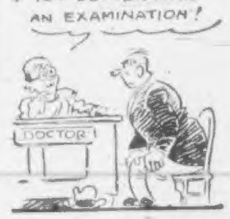
Scars, Lumps, Moles May Turn Into Cancer

By DR. J. B. WARREN



Most cancers grow rapidly. When a mole, lump, scar or other growth has been present for months or even years it is natural to think it is not cancerous. But if changes take place in these "innocent" growths, then the fact that they may develop into cancer should not be forgotten. It is known that in 20 per cent or more of these conditions—scars, moles, lumps and other growths—skin cancer develops. In some cases cancerous growth and innocent growth are going on at the same time. Don't disturb these moles, scars or growths in any way. Watch them and see if any change takes place. If so, consult your physician at once.
